Requests Speedy Tax Work

Sec. Humphrey Says That Much Business Growth Waiting For Bill to Be Put Thru

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey today urged speedy congressional action on President Eisenhower's big tax overhaul bill, saying much business expansion is waiting for it to become law.

In a speech prepared for the American Society of Newspaper Editors at the opening of its three-day annual meeting here, Humphrey also said the nation's economy is withstanding the downturn of military production "remarkably well."

"I am confident of the future and that we are not now headed for a depression," he told the approximately 400 editors.

But he said fast passage of the broad tax revision measure now before the Senate Finance Committee would have "a tremendously helpful effect upon the economy."

While the bill is basically a "long-overdue tax reform," the secretary said, "it can help greatly the current economic transition."

The giant 875-page tax measure, already passed by the House, is now the subject of hearings before the Senate committee. As now worded it would ease the tax load on business and individuals by an estimated $1,400,000,000 the first year.

Humphrey said, "There are many business projects around the country which are being held up pending final decision on this revision bill. . . . When the bill is enacted, these new or expanding businesses can go ahead with their plans, which will result in the creation of thousands of jobs and the vital expansion of our economy."

The Treasury chief decried what he called "loose talking" about recession and possible serious depressions ahead. Average employment in the past three months was 60 million," he said, the highest in any year except 1953, while personal income and construction contracts are running well ahead of a year ago.

Rep. John W. McCormack (D-Mass), minority whip of the House, took a less optimistic view of the country's economic health.

Debating with House Majority Leader Charles Halleck (R-Ind) on developments in the first 15 months of the Eisenhower administration, McCormack said the "hard money" policy of a year ago "created so much fear that deflation went farther than they (the Republicans) intended."

The return to an "easy money" policy last June came too late, McCormack said in prepared remarks. He added: "The damage has been done—they had created fear in the minds of our people."

Rep. Halleck, in reply, claimed for the GOP a "magnificent record of achievement," including stoppage of the shooting in Korea, seizure of initiative in the cold war, and "the first tax cuts since the Republicans 80th Congress."

Declaring that the country is "within sight of a balanced budget," the Republican said, "it is only because of the billions which have been saved by the President and the Republican 83rd Congress that any tax cuts are possible."

McCormack countered that "I doubt if we will have a balanced budget by the end of this administration."

Board Seeks Possible New School Building Site In West Sedalia

The Sedalia Board of Education announced Thursday morning that it is examining several sites in west Sedalia for the purchase of options and the possible construction later of a new school building.

A. L. Hawkins, Sr., president, said that the board feels it is necessary to secure a site soon because of the rapid development of the west end of town which will bring a severe enrollment problem and because a delay may mean that all suitable sites would be taken before the board could secure one.

Hazel Palmer Not to Ask Re-election

Her Decision Is Announced To Public Today

Miss Hazel Palmer, Republican, the Pettis County collector, announced today her intention not to be a candidate for another term in the office and to retire at the expiration of her present term, March 1, 1955.

Her statement, as given to The Democrat, is as follows:

"There comes a time when one is faced with momentous decisions, important only to that person and then because of his or her own way of thinking, perhaps. For many months, as my family and close friends know, I have been seriously considering the matter of filing or not filing for the office of county collector again. I did not wish to appear to be unappreciative of the proffered support of my many friends, neither did I wish to appear to be casting opportunity aside — yet my convictions against perpetuating oneself in a public office are rather well known.

"In my own mind, I had always said I would never run for a third term, as popular as it seemed to be. But when the time came it seemed the easiest course to take. I find that the inside of a courthouse, like politics itself, gets in the blood. When the time for filing for a fourth term was upon me, I filed my declaration of candidacy as political expediency, pending the outcome of the battle with myself to take the way of least resistance and remain in the courthouse another four years, if elected, or to take the step my honest convictions dictated: "turn loose". Yesterday evening I reached my decision. I shall retire from this office on March 1, 1955, the end of my present term. (I have no other plans whatever — except my law practice — in case of question.)

"It is only fair then that I make my intention known at once and withdraw my declaration of candidacy so that any who would have filed for this office on either ticket, had it not been for my filing, may do so as early as possible.

"I have enjoyed serving the people of Pettis County and have tried to understand the problems of those on the other side of the tax window, yet I have endeavored to do my official duty in putting the financial welfare and interests of the taxing agencies (state, county, roads and schools) first, for in so doing the benefit eventually reverts to the individual taxpayer in reduction of tax rates. If each one charged with taxes pays them, the rate will not have to be so high on those who willingly desire to pay their taxes and thus help carry their load of government expense and support the education of their own or others' children.

"No one could ever serve a finer group of taxpayers than I have served. I am deeply grateful for the opportunity. It is not a pleasant duty for any of us to pay taxes but your cooperation, patience and understanding have been wonderful and sincerely appreciated. I shall continue to serve you to the completion of my term to the best of my ability."

Cole Camp Students Escape Serious Hurts As Bus Overturns

About 35 Cole Camp High School and Grade School students escaped serious injury Wednesday when the bus in which they were riding, driven by A. B. Inpelmann, overturned just outside of Cole Camp.

The bus left Cole Camp and just outside of town, went out of control on a curve, crashed through a fence, and overturned, landing against the house of A. H. Zimmerschied. The bus was badly damaged on the left front side. No estimate was made.

Benton County Sheriff Bob White, State Trooper Glenn Means, Warsaw, and Dr. Warckerle and Dr. Fields, both of Cole Camp, were at the scene of the accident.

Have Letters Condemning Oppenheimer

Both Are Reported To Accuse Scientise Of Buying Immunity

NEW YORK (AP)— Congressional committees today were reported to have copies of two 1949 letters in effect accusing Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer of attempting to "buy immunity for yourself by turning informer" on Communists.

Author of the letters was said to be Dr. Robert U. Condon, former head of the U. S. Bureau of Standards who once was described by a congressional committee as the "weakest link" in the nation's atomic security.

Condon in sworn testimony repeatedly denied all such charges against him.

The report of the letters was published today by the New York Journal American and the New York Daily News, which said copies were in the hands of three different congressional committees. The newspapers said that they also are available to the Atomic Energy Commission Security Board now investigating Oppenheimer.

The Daily News gave this account of the background of the Condon letters to the noted atomic scientist:

Oppenheimer appeared before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in a secret session in 1949.

His testimony there was never made public, but a portion leaked out and was published in the Rochester, N. Y., Times-Union.

Oppenheimer allegedly had identified Dr. Bernard Peters, a student of Dr. Oppenheimer in atomic matters and then a faculty member at the University of Rochester, as a Communist.

Condon subsequently wrote Op-

Art Festival Judge to Have Two Pictures In the Display

One of the outstanding features at the Art Festival this year will be a non-competitive exhibit of two pictures by the judge of the festival, Remington Schuyler, head of the art department at Missouri Valley College, Marshall.

A picture that is a real inspiration is Mr. Schuyler's painting, "Lo, I Am With You Always." It is a picture of a modern young woman with Christ by her side and His light reflecting on her face. This beautiful painting, which is so appropriate at the Easter season, is done effectively with shades of yellow and blue predominating.

Mr. Schuyler's second picutre is entitled, "Teen age", and is a picture of his son, Peter, riding his motorcycle. The profile painting shows Peter, his arms out as he holds to the handles of his motorcycle, the wind blowing against him and the look of determination of youth on his face, as his father expressed it, as if he is St. George and has just seen the dragon. It is a wonderful action picture.

The second amateur Art Festival will be held at the Sedalia Public Library this weekend, starting Friday from 5 to 9 p. m., Saturday from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. and Sunday, 1 to 4:30 p. m. It is sponsored by the Beta Tau chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

This year the exhibit of art work is exceptionally outstanding, with all originals, no copies.

In addition to the pictures will also be several other interesting exhibits, among them hand weaving which includes towels, other pieces and place mats by Mrs. John Knaus, route 5, Sedalia. This work was done by Mrs. Knaus while she was in college at the University of Missouri.

There will also be silk screen prints by Mrs. Joseph S. Loughran, 815 West Fifth, which will show prints for screening of silk.

Another unusual display is copper craft by Mrs. Herschel Stapleton, Sedalia, which is done with the back with an orangestick. It is very intricate work and very interesting.

A large display is by two men employed at the Telephone Company, Bob Owens, Highway 50, and Paul Houston, 1601 West 14th. Bob learned the art of leatherwork from Paul and Paul learned from reading books about the work. All this work is cut and hand carved. In Paul's collection on display are several other shoulder bags and half round bags, also a billfold, belt, an unusually beautiful photograph album, and a saddle with a cowboy on a bucking bronco and with flowers.

Bob's collection is a holster with knife, sheath, with deer and flowers, a vest made from the skin of a white elk, which he killed himself. The vest is lined with suede and has black lacing. He also has on display a suitcase, valise type, on the side of which is a large deer and on the other side an Indian head.

Arranges Housing Hearings

Senate Committee Will Hear Federal Housing Executive As First Witness

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Banking Committee today set public hearings for Monday on multi-million dollar housing scandals.

Chairman Capehart (R-Ind) said the first witness would be Albert M. Cole, federal housing chief; Guy T. O. Hollyday, resigned head of the Federal Housing Administration (FHA); and Clyde L. Powell, assistant FHA commissioner.

The Banking Committee thus moved in ahead of Sen. Byrd (D-Va), chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Expenditure. Byrd already had summoned Cole to appear before his group next Tuesday.

Shortly after Capehart's announcement, Byrd said his first witness Tuesday morning would be T. Coleman Andrews, chief of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Byrd told newsmen he was not certain whether his committee would take testimony from Cole on Tuesday as previously announced, or at some later date.

President Eisenhower was reported to be ready to open government tax files for the Banking Committee. By law, income tax returns are kept secret even from Congress but the President has authority to let congressional investigators look at them.

Some committee members nonetheless felt strongly the inquiry would at least slow up Eisenhower's housing program — and perhaps kill it altogether for this session of Congress.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind), Banking Committee chairman, said he talked to the White House and expected to receive shortly a list of at least 251 firms or individuals "who were beneficiaries of big windfalls" aggregating 100 million dollars.

"We'll get the worst ones up here and put them under oath," he said in an interview.

He also said he would "probably" confer with Atty. Gen. Brownell, at Brownell's request, on possible indictments which might come out of parallel probes by the administration itself, the Banking Committee and the Senate - House Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures, headed by Sen. Byrd (D-Va).

The Banking committee had planned to start final work on a housing bill next Tuesday. But what senators called "shocking exposures" indicated close scrutiny of both old and new sections in the House-passed bill and grave doubts whether the job could be finished in time for action during this Congress.

Air Academy Site Commission Visits SAFB Area This Morning

Good Friday Service Will Begin at Noon

Three Hour Worship Has Been Planned By the Ministers

Good Friday will be observed in Sedalia tomorrow with a three hour public worship service at the First Methodist Church, sponsored by the Sedalia Ministerial Alliance and beginning at 12 noon.

The program is so arranged that any who cannot stay the full three hours may come and leave at the beginning or ending of any message.

The last Words of Christ on the Cross will be featured in the service and the speakers, their topics, and those who will preside during the different periods of the service are as follows:

First Word, "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do;" the Rev. David M. Bryan presiding; the Rev. D. Warren Neal speaker.

Second Word, "Today shalt thou be with me in paradise;" the Rev. Mr. Gael presiding; the Rev. L. P. Parker speaker.

Third Word, "Woman! Behold thy Son;" the Rev. J. C. Jackson presiding; the Rev. Thomas W. Croxton speaker.

Fourth Word, "My God! My God! Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?"; the Rev. Roy L. Bowers presiding; the Rev. L. D. Hardeman speaker.

Fifth Word, "I Thirst"; the Rev. J. S. Loughran presiding; the Rev. A. F. Klemme speaker.

Sixth Word, "It is finished;" the Rev. E. L. Gilkison presiding; the Rev. J. W. Watts speaker.

Seventh Word, "Father into Thy hands I commend my spirit;" the Rev. L. F. Soxman presiding; the Rev. David Funk speaker.

The Easter Sunrise Service, sponsored by the Sedalia Ministerial Alliance, will be held at 6 a.m. Easter Sunday at the new stadium on West Third.

Dr. M. Earle Collins will give the Easter message. At the organ will be Mrs. Pete Siegel.

The Sedalia site for the proposed Air Force Academy was visited this morning by the five-man commission viewing some 600 such sites throughout the United States. The group spent nearly two hours touring the site, the Sedalia Air Force Base, and hearing the benefits of the site from members of Sedalia and Warrensburg Chambers of Commerce, who were on hand for their arrival.

No comment was made by any of the commission members, either favorable or unfavorable. They did, however, remark that a beautiful location was being offered to the Air Force for the academy by the State of Missouri.

The commission and chamber of commerce boosters were given a tour through the area in an Air Force bus, during which they were briefed from time to time on the advantages of the academy being located in this area. This briefing on the location was given by Ed Houx, Warrensburg, and Robert "Bob' Johnson, Sedalia.

At the Air Base, Col Franklin K Reyher, commanding officer of SAFB, pointed out the progress of the base since it was re-activated. During this tour, both Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, U. S. Air Force retired, the first chief of staff of the Air Force and Lt. Gen. Hubert E. Harmon, special assistant to Air Force Secretary Harold Talbott, remarked on the changes since they last visited the site back in 1950, when Sedalia and Warrensburg were bidding for the academy and the two generals were members of the first site committee.

The large Air Force Constellation landed at the SAFB a few minutes after 10 a. m. and took off about 12:10 p. m. for Scott Field, Ill., where the commission will make an inspection of a site offered there.

The commission refrained from giving any information on sites already visited and also as to whether or not any elimination of any site had been made.

Mr. Meigs, in discussing the site tour, said that before any actual eliminations would be made, a briefing and a fair review of all will be made. "We have been chosen to try and advise the secretary of air to the best of our ability on the best suitable location. There will be a lot of people mad at us, but our decision will be for the best interest of the Air Force,' Mr. Meigs said.

The members of the commission were very attentive to the briefings delivered. They were also informed a new brochure is being prepared and will be waiting their arrival in Washington by April 21. On original brochure on the site was already in the hands of the commission, on which the Chamber of Commerce was complimented by a member of the group. "It is very informative, but we will be glad to get the up-to-date information that is being prepared."

Perjury Case Of Shoulders Goes to Jury

Government Asserts Ex-Police Officer Lied to Grand Jury

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The perjury case of Louis Shoulders, former St. Louis police officer credited with breaking the Greenlease kidnaping case, went to a federal district court jury shortly after noon today.

a federal grand jury about the handling of suitcases containing ransom money recovered from Carl Austin Hall, one of the kidnap-slayers of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

Of the $600,000 paid by millionaire Kansas City auto dealer, Robert Greenlease, for the return of his son, later found slain, $303,720 still is missing.

In its closing argument today, the government contended Shoulders told a different story as to the time the ransom suitcases were carried into a St. Louis police station.

Kenneth West, assistant U. S. district attorney, said Shoulders indicated to the grand jury one suitcase was taken in at the time Hall was booked, but that yesterday he testified both of them were taken in after Hall had been booked and put in a cell.

Defense Attorney Henry G. Morris disagreed. He said Shoulders' grand jury testimony was that he booked Hall and "in the meantime I think," Patrolman Elmer Dolan carried one of the suitcases in.

Morris said that did not mean one of the suitcases was taken in at the same time Hall was booked.

Dolan recently was convicted of a similar perjury charge but has not been sentenced. He was expected to file a motion for a new trial today.

West emphasized the testimony of several witnesses who were in the station when Hall was booked and who said they did not see any suitcases brought into the station that night.

Morris, terming the case, "frail and mixed-up," asked the jury "when and how did the suitcases get in there?"

He also said some of the government testimony was contradictory and incredible.

Begin Measurements For Courthouse 'Lift'

It begins to appear as if the old idea about an elevator in the Pettis County Courthouse may soon become a reality.

On Thursday morning, patrons of the courthouse saw the judges of the county court conferring with local contractors and G. F. Wander, representative of the Kansas City office of the Otis Elevator Co., climbing up and down steps and making several measurements.

It was the first step in trying to estimate where to locate the elevator and what alterations would have to be made.

Asserts Alliance Optimism

Dulles Has High Hopes for Success Of SE Asia Rally Over Indochina

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today expressed high optimism for the success of the proposed 10-nation alliance on Southeast Asia and said he believed the Communists would "renounce their extravagant ambitions" there.

Dulles, returning to the United States after talks in London and Paris on the Indochina struggle, said unity of "the free nations having vital interests in the area" was "taking definite form."

He said the Geneva conference, which begins April 26, "will be a test" and will "advance the cause of freedom in Southeast Asia x x."

He said he "returned well-satisfied with the results of my trip."

Dulles was reported anxious to get talks on the Pacific pact started as soon as possible to help counter any expansionist ambitions the Russians and Communist Chinese might bring to Geneva.

The Americans aimed for concrete progress toward an alliance before the Geneva talks get around to Indochina, perhaps several weeks after the conference opening.

The American secretary's agreement with British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Foreign Minister Bidault to "examine the possibility" of an NATO-type alliance for the Pacific produced rumblings as well as praise around the globe.

The Eisenhower administration's leader in the U. S. Senate, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), told the upper chamber in Washington that if Nationalist China and South Korea were left out, "you have a paper pact and not an effective alliance."

Several Democratic senators also challenged the administration's Pacific policy. Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said the "examination" Dulles, Eden and Bidault had announced "might take a long time and maybe there isn't enough time for it."

However, Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee and Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee praised the results of Dulles' mission.

"This may be the answer to our troubles in the Pacific," Wiley said.

Britain's opposition labor party split wide open over possible British participation. Aneurin Bevan, fiery leader of the faction's left wing, quit the party's high command group because its moderate leadership had not opposed the project. British observers figured most of his followers would join him in the revolt against former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, the party's leader.

In France, already almost over her head in the Indochina war, the proposed alliance seemed likely to stir little heavy opposition except from the Communists.

Indian newspaper bitterly criticized the Dulles-Eden-Bidault proposal as a blow to any chances of progress at hte Geneva conference.

The three foreign secretaries envision that Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines and the three Associated States of Indochina would join them in the projected alliance.

Crossroads Comment

by G.H.S.

Under most distressing circumstances, when all the world seems agin' ye, 'tis well if you have a sense of humor and utilize it or else become a confirmed cynic.

Forces that seem unjustifiably to overwhelm an individual may be operating for the ultimate benefit of many. Change is inevitable and a person might as well adapt himself to it. Civic improvements fall in this category.

A treasured landmark must come down to be replaced with a parking lot; a new highway brings sacrifice of trees and isolation of once profitable business establishments; a hospital like the old Maywood, once the Jaynes home, gave way to a filling station, armory and drive-in. But in its passing came the modern Bothwell hospital in a quiet section of town; office buildings and warehouses are replacing old homes on East Fifth street; there once was a cottage next to the Porter Building on West Fourth street and in dozens of places a block off either side of Ohio Street. A few still remain as Sedalia's business area continues its expansion.

East Broadway today is involved in the growing pains of this expansion. To old timers and present property owners it seems a crime that this area faces the prospect of being re-zoned for business purposes. Resistance may prevent it temporarily but there is a sense of inevitability about the outcome.

Elbert Hubbard wrote that "All progress starts with a crime." Those intimately affected by the change and progress may attach literal significance to Hubbard's concept, although the charitable view would be that his idea was an abstract one.

A person can burn his soul to a crisp believing that all the world is bad, and he a victim of it.

Federal Road Finance Bill To President

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill calling for 966 million dollars a year in federal highway financing — the biggest sum ever voted by Congress for the purpose—is on President Eisenhower's desk.

The President is considered certain to sign the measure since he had recommended a big boost in federal road outlays, although not quite as much as Congress voted.

Of the 966-million total in the bill, 875 million would go to states in grants and be matched, much of it on a dollar-for-dollar basis.

However, the new expanded program would not take effect until fiscal 1956 beginning July 1, 1955. The 966-million spending rate is authorized for fiscal 1956 and 1957. Congress normally acts this far ahead on the road spending bill so that the states can carry forward their advance planning.

The total in the bill compares with 652 million authorized for the current year and for fiscal 1955, which begins this July 1.

The Senate and House completed action on the compromise measure yesterday.

The House originally had voted for 875 million, the figure asked by the President, and the Senate for $1,020,000,000.

The 875 million in matching funds is broken down this way, with the comparable figures in millions for the current program listed in parentheses: primary highways, 315 million (247½); secondary system, 210 million (165); primary system adjacent to cities, 175 million (137½); interstate system, 175 million (25).

FFA Chapter Plans Long Trip to West

The regular meeting of the Green Ridge FFA Chapter was held last week with Morris Hinken, president, presiding. Among other business, it was decided for the Chapter to co-operate with the Farm Bureau Insurance Company of Jefferson City on the auto safety project, which is to be held May 10-14 at Liberty Park in Sedalia.

It is a project sponsored by the Farm Bureau to check cars for defective brakes, lights, etc. The FFA Chapter is to operate the project under Farm Bureau supervision in Sedalia.

The following boys were selected as the group to work: Dale McCune, Gene Alderman, Robert Tucker, Dale Lacey, Lyman Kaiser, Tom Bell, Jack Vanarsdale, Bob Williams, Guy Titsworth and Curtis Lacey.

The tentative route planned by the trip committee was also approved. It includes visiting points of interest as Yellowstone Park, Salt Lake City, Rocky Mountains National Park, Colorado Springs, Pike's Peak, Denver, Amarillo, Tex., Oklahoma City, and other places in the 3000 mile trip.

Wants US to Sell Its Atomic Plants

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP) — The chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy says the federal government has the responsibility "to conduct and support basic nuclear research" but should "get out of the production business."

Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), speaking in a lecture series at Haverford College, advocated termination of federal ownership of the towns of Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash.

Japan Has Phone-TV Service in 3 Cities

TOKYO (AP)—Little Ichiro in Tokyo now can see Uncle Shozaburo in Nagoya or Auntie Satsumi in Osaka, 280 miles away, when he telephones them.

The telegraph and telephone service today opened telephone-TV service limited to the three cities.

Green Ridge Boys In FFA State Groups

Morris Hinken and Russell Harbit, received notice last week that their applications for the state FFA band had been accepted and Ivan Beemer received notification at the same time that his application for state FFA chorus also was approved.

Plans at this time are to have about 175 members in each the band and chorus. They are composed of FFA members from chapters all over the state and will perform during the state FFA convention.

Morris Hinken plays the clarinet, Russell Harbit the trombone, and Iven Beemer sings bass. The band and chorus members will go to Columbia April 21 to practice together before the convention opens.

Met to Open With Favorite Opera Scenes

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera plans to open its season next fall with a program of favorite operatic scenes instead of the customary single opera.

Rudolpf Bing, Met manager, said yesterday the success of a similar "gala performance" last March, plus his wish to give a closed network television audience "as varied and interesting a program as possible," prompted the change.

Bing announced the following scenes—for the Nov. 8 opening from four operas: the prologue to "Pagliacci," the first act of "La Boheme," the second act from "Barber of Seville," and three scenes from "Aidea."

Loses $22,500 Clip

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mary Pickford told sheriff's deputies yesterday she lost a $22,500 diamond bracelet clip during a party at a Sunset Strip restaurant Monday night.

Juniors, Seniors From Clarksburg Tour to Chicago

The junior and senior classes of Clarksburg High School, with their sponsors, Fred Umstead and Mrs. George Pedego, took an educational tour to Chicago and points of interest in and around Springfield, Ill.

They made the trip in the school bus driven by Loy Martin, accompanied by Mrs. Martin. The Martins, who have made the trip several times, planned the tour with such efficiency that not an hour of time was wasted. Among the many places studied were: The Natural History Museum, The John G. Shedd Aquarium, The Adler Planetarium and Astronomical Museum, where Mr. Umstead and some of his science students heard a lecture on the "Story of the Planets." In the Museum of Science and industry, the group was taken down into a coal mine and shown how coal is mined the modern way.

Among the many interesting things seen in the building were: Coleen Moore's Doll House; the wood, rubber, plastic stories reproduced with miniature machinery doing the work. The great heart, and the story of life in the medical department held the interest of many while others preferred the old Nickeloden movie house in the reproduction of "Old Town".

A tour was made up North Lake Shore for a view of Lake Michigan, the Chicado skyline, Northwestern University, and the Bahi Temple. The group rode the elevated train around the Chocago "Loop" and took a subway ride.

While visiting in Chinatown, the juniors and seniors held their annual banquet in the famous Tin Yen Restaurant with a menu of Chinese food.

At Springfield, they spent several hours visiting the home and tomb of Lincoln and the town of New Salem, which has been restored as it was when Lincoln lived there.

The group left Clarksburg Saturday at 4:30 a. m. and returned Monday evening at 10:30 p. m. This tour proved to be the most educational and worthwhile tour to ever have been conducted from the school, even though the time was quite limited.

Clarksburg High Quartette to State

The music department of the Clarksburg High School attended the district festival at Warrensburg Friday, April .

The mixed quartet composed of Sarah Rex, Bernice Caldwell, Donald Keller and Roy Dameron, received a I rating which makes them eligible for the state festival at Columbia, April 30. The double mixed quartet, girls trio, girls quartet and girls sextet received superior ratings, and the boys quartet a rating of good.

Harmony Hustlers Plan 4-H Sunday

The Harmony Hustler 4-H Club met at the home of Judith Ann Page April 8 with 13 members present.

A committee was appointed to plan 4-H Sunday. Plans were made for a bake sale, April 17.

Songs were led by Emma Katherine Sanders. Two special numbers were given by Betty Mertgen and Joyce Sanders.

The next 4-H business meeting will be held May 14 at the home of Linda and Jerry Page.

Can Sell Vitamin Tablets In Vendors

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—It's legal to sell vitamin tablets in vending machines in Michigan.

The attorney general's office so held today in an opinion pointing out that courts in other states have approved on grounds that vitamins are food supplements and not drugs.

has that MONTHLY LOOK?

EYES SHOW CRAMPS, "NERVES", MISERY

You, too, may not be able to hide that tired, nervous, jittery look each month no matter how much "make-up" you use. Keep your secret safe during "those" days—don't be the one girl in three who shows the strain from telltale nerves and cramps—has "that monthly look".*

Take Cardui, a special medicine trusted by thousands of women, girls to help insure against cramps, "nerves" and monthly misery. A little Cardui each day helps build strength so resistance may be greater each month, nervousness and suffering less and less. Look more natural—feel and sleep better. Ask your dealer for Cardui. (Say: "card-you-eye").

*Many scientists estimate that at some time during life 1 out of every 3 women suffers from monthly discomfort.

Miss O'Briant Gives Talk on Lighting To High Point Club

Miss Opal O'Briant, county home agent, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the High Point Extension Club Wednesday, April 7, at the home of Mrs. V. Brownfield.

Miss O'Briant gave a very interesting and helpful talk on, "Benefits of Good Lighting in Our Homes." One of the many suggestions was to keep the light bulbs clean from dust. Light bulbs should be dusted as often as the furniture is dusted; a clean bulb will give out better lighting. Dust and a dark coloring in the bulb will prevent the full amount of light to shine. An old bulb that shows a dark spot should be discarded and replaced with a new one. Another suggestion was to measure the amount of light with a light meter which measures the amount of light at a given point. Large bulbs are more efficient than small ones, because the benefits of good lighting preserves and conserves eyesight.

Roll call was answered by 15 members present and five guests: Miss O'Briant, Mrs. Roy Simmons, Mrs. Harry Simmons, Mrs. J. B. Baldwin and Mrs. Linsey.

After the business meeting, a game, "What Am I?" created a lot of fun and laughter; a picture of a vegetable or a flower was fastened on the member's back and each one had to guess what was on her own back by asking questions which would help identify the picture.

Mrs. Brownfield was assisted by Mrs. A. Stoffel, assistant hostess.

The next meeting will be held May 5 at the home of Mrs. J. H. Zahringer Jr., with Mrs. Otto Aurig assisting.

El Progressio Club Hears Book Review

El Progressio Club of Windsor held their April meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Allen, with Mrs. Earl Goff as assistant hostess.

Mrs. Vera Clingan, a former member of the club was present, gave a very interesting review of the book entitled "The Power of Positive Thinking" by Norman Vincent Peele.

During the social hour the hostesses served refreshments to 17 members and one guest.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Otterville Legion Aux Studies Mexico

The April meeting of the George Clark Harlan Unit, American Legion Auxiliary at Otterville, was held Monday afternoon at the Legion Hall. At the business session the unit president, Mrs. Walter E. Castle, presided. Plans were made for entertaining members of the Legion in recognition of their accomplishment in membership increases from 66 to 100, a national record.

The feature of the April program was Mrs. L. A. Bane, child welfare chairman, who gave her annual report and program.

The Pan-American Study, along with the national study of Mexico, was led by Mrs. Roy Armstrong, Pan-American chairman, and her committee composed of Mrs. J. E. Page, Mrs. K. J. Morris, Mrs. John Rahm, Mrs. Mary Bishop and Miss Beulah Armstrong.

The following program was presented: introduction, Mrs. Leo J. Smith; discussion of government and products, Mrs. Walter C. Castle; money exchange and markets, Mrs. John Rahm; imaginary trip to Mexico, Mrs. K. J. Morris; description of the flag, Mrs. Mary Bishop; sports and music, Mrs. Smith, and vocal solos, "South of the Border," and "El Rancho Grande."

During the serving of refreshments, consisting of foods from Mexico, recorded Mexican music was played. Mrs. J. E. Page, assisted, wearing a beautiful and elaborate Mexican costume.

There was an exhibit of material that Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Rahm and Mrs. Castle had purchased on trips to Mexico.

The Pan-American study was a high light of the auxiliary this year. The local unit is entering the national contest for excellence in program and presentation for this particlar study.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be held at 8 p. m. May 10 at the Methodist Church. At the same hour will be the regular monthly meeting of the Legion at the Legion Hall. Following these, a joint meeting will be held when members of the auxiliary will sponsor a program and social hour and serve refreshments.

Bunceton Ladies Aid Meets With Mrs. Bason

The Ladies Aid of the Grace Lutheran Church, Bunceton, met Wednesday in an all day meeting with Mrs. Fred Bason.

Seven members, three visitors and five children were present.

The day was spent in quilting and a covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

Pilot Grove PTA Installs Officers

Installation of the officers for the coming year was held at the regular meeting of the PTA at the Pilot Grove High School Monday evening, April 12. Mrs. Paul Meisenheimer was installed as president, Mrs. Huston Deer, vice-president, Miss Lida Harris, secretary, and Mrs. Phillip Day, treasurer. Mrs. Byron Beckner had charge of the service.

The business meeting was opened with piano selections by Mrs. Hardy Coleman, followed with prayer by Herman Ries.

Mrs. Meisenheimer reported that a covered dish supper would be held May 13 in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Davis, Larry, Dixie and Bill. Mrs. Phillip Day gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Henry Jeffress gave a very interesting report on the meeting of the County Council March 16, held in Boonville.

Announcement was made of the meeting Tuesday, April 20, of the Parent Education Group. The subject is "Being Better Citizens" and movies will be shown. Parents and their children are invited to attend.

At the conclusion of the business session the program chairman, Keith Davis presented the home economics students in a program. A skit entitled "Temites, Beware" was given by six girls, Joan Overstreet, Elaine Selback, Alice Day, Wanda Bergman, Mamie Stoecklein and Dorothy Roth.

Rita Kraus, as reader, presented the girls in the style show entitled "A Day in the Life of an F. H. A." The color and designing of the costumes showed artistic ability and excellent training by their teacher, Mrs. Rapp. Miss Martha Story was pianist during the style show.

A social hour was held following the program and refreshments served by the social committee, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ries and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Twenter.

Couple Observes 61st Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maloney celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary, and Mrs. Maloney's 81st birthday, Sunday, April 11, at their home in Syracuse.

Those present for the contributed dinner were: William Twyman, Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Twyman, Sedalia, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bird, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Peoples, Warrensburg, H. S. Maloney, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Klein, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Klein, Syracuse.

Spring Fork Club Sending Sheets To Mercy Hospital

Each member brought two sheets to be mailed to Mercy Hospital in Kansas City.

Mrs. J. L. Knight, Hughesville, presented the program on leather tooling.

Eight members and four guests, Mrs. Raymond Morarity, Miss Catherine McGee, Mrs. Charles Dillon and Mrs. Walter Raabe, were present.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Martin Doogs.

Farouk-Era Politicians Are Banned

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's military government banished from politics for a decade today all leaders of the nation's three major parties who held office during ex-King Farouk's last 10 years on the throne.

The Revolutionary Council's order stripping the old politians of their rights to hold office or lead their parties struck at most of the part premiers and Cabinet members who governed the country before the present military junta seized power in July 1952.

It also would keep such former political leadership out of the national advisory council which the military regime has said it would set up to assist in the transition to eventual civilian rule.

The order applied to Egypt's three main political parties—the Wafdists, Saadists and Liberal Constitutionalists. It said nonpartisan ministers would not be affected "unless the Revolution Council rules otherwise."

The sweeping decision was reached in a marathon council session that started at noon yesterday and ended in a joint meeting with the subordinate civilian Cabinet early today.

It was seen as another major victory for Vice Premier Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser in his struggle for power within the council against President - Premier Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib. The latter favored lifting the present ban on political parties and a return to parliamentary rule following elections in July.

Naguib was forced to reverse his pledges of such a program on March 29 after pro-Nasser street demonstrations protested the return of the old politicians and demanded the Revolution Council continue to rule the country.

Naguib collapsed during that crisis and was reported still confined to his bed—too ill to attend the all-night session which reached today's decision. Nasser presided.

Guidance Minister Salah Salem said the order banishing the old politicians aimed to bar a comeback of those "who ruled Egypt under Farouk's corrupt regime and were, through their compliance with Farouk and due to their failure to resist his tyranny, responsible for the corruption of Egypt's political life."

Russians Reappear At Aircraft Forum, Buy All Literature

NEW YORK (AP)—Russians have shown up again at an aircraft forum here, buying up exhibition booth literature as well as copies of speeches, technical papers and promotional material.

The four-day forum, which ends today, is sponsored annually by the Society of Automotive Engineers. More than 1,000 U.S. aircraft designers and executives have been attending sessions.

Russian observers have been present in past years. It was learned yesterday that a pair of Soviet military attaches from their Washington embassy have been showing up during the forum.

They were identified as Lt. Col. Bogatyrev, assistant air attache, and Lt. Col. Sergei I. Sokolovsky, assistant military attache.

The men reportedly registered at the meetings without using their military titles, and used Washington home addresses rather than the Soviet Embassy address.

SAE officials said little could be done about the Russians' attendance unless it could be shown they attended "confidential" sessions.

City Officials Find Strict 'Blue Law'

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—City officials, seeking to enforce ordinances against Sunday automobile sales, dug into old statutes and found more than they bargained for.

They dusted off an ancient blue law—still in effect—that permits sale of "vital necessities" only after 9 a.m. Sunday. Specifically banned are groceries, cigarettes, fish bait and automobiles.

OFFERS REWARD — Maj.-Gen. Arthur R. Wilson (ret.) offered $100 to the first "tough noncom" who gives Pvt. David Schine, former investigator on Senator McCarthy's committee, a punch in the nose. Now in Europe on business, General Wilson posted the reward with the commanding officer at Ft. Dix, N. J.

Willys Motors Employees Take A Salary Cut

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—So that their employer can better compete with other auto makers, production employes of Willys Motors, Inc., have voted to take a pay cut of as much as 10 per cent.

The vote was taken yesterday after Richard T. Gosser, vice president of the CIO United Auto Workers, told the employes the cut is necessary to stabilize Willys' economic position. Part of the loss may be recovered if a new bonus pay plan can be worked out.

The new pay plan does not affect basic hourly wages, but has the effect of eliminating incentive pay, awarded workers who produce more than a fixed norm for their jobs.

With Willys current employing about 7,000 production workers at an average wage of $80, a 10 per cent cut could save the firm $56,000 weekly in labor costs. Gosser said the union hopes to reduce Willys' production costs 20 per cent within six months, making it competitive with General Motors, Chrysler and Ford.

Edgar F. Kaiser, president of Kaiser - Willys, described the union's action as a "tremendous step forward" which advances Willys' operations "to a point where it can become competitive with the Big Three from a standpoint of cost in the production of a complete unit."

Lovely Sad Girls In Spring Dresses Longing for a Man

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It is sad to think of spring when lovely girls are sad.

Particularly in April, when a man still has last winter's arthritis on his mind.

Somehow there seem to be more sad girls than usual this spring, though their dresses are bright as always, and as they paw at their purses while holding up the homeward bus, they make a fair statue against the twilight sun.

What makes so many lovely girls sad? They are yearning for a man. Yes, a gentle male husband who will meet them at the door, his arms aching with tenderness—and a 28-lb sack of potatoes he has lugged home from the supermarket.

That is what every lovely girl in her bright spring dress really wants—just coming home to the worn figure of a husband who has looted the world for her, in a grocery store. At least that is all she needs to make her happy, even if she doesn't know it.

But, as a cranky middle-aged veteran of the supermarkets myself, I will tell you why so many girls in bright dresses are sad this spring. And every spring.

They are not willing to settle for a proud, poor, honest and occasionally horse-playing husband who is tamely willing to make himself a grocery boy for her.

That isn't enough for them. They want to start married life at the top—and go on right up from there in a world of ever-lowering bliss.

The lovely sad girls in their bright spring dresses . . . what they really need to make them happy is perhaps somewhere around them (just a lonesome man, broken by April), but what they hold out for is beyond them.

They speak of mink coats . . . and a guy with steady money instead of a guy with a steady job . . . and often make a brief and wakeful surrender to a fellow with a mouth full of promises instead of a man with a mouth full of heart.

The lovely sad girls in their bright spring dresses . . . they are all across America today.

But most of those who have that "are-you-a-millionaire" look in their eyes seem to gather in towns like New York. Maybe one of 10,000 does meet and marry a millionaire, and a dream comes true—and perhaps goes on to become a nightmare—as it can happen anywhere.

But why should a sensible millionaire want to marry one of the sad sweet girls of spring, waiting in a bright dress for his money?

How many girls are wistful? How many bright dresses are there? How many millionaires? How many springs?

Sometime people will read a new fairy story—why Cinderella, unsought by a prince, married the hotel bootblack because that was the only guy she deserved, but by good luck she got him the job of night attendant in the men's room, where he made enough tips to send their kids to college.

This isn't fantasy, or a dream, but—in substance—an American fact.

Why not teach children that life's real dream begins as a team after a wedding—and that the real wealth of living in our time is trying to work out a better world for those you are responsible for and want to have a better and safer day than you have known?

Until this is done won't every spring bring out more sad young lovely girls in bright dresses? And leave us stuck with more dull old frightened bachelors who are afraid of being preyed upon each spring by lovely girls with empty eyes looking for a dollar mark instead of a man?

France Delays Starting Date On EDC Debate

PARIS (AP)—France's Cabinet today postponed until May 18 its final decision on a starting date for the crucial National Assembly debate on the European army plan. The government reportedly hopes the legislative talking can start a week later.

The Cabinet announced it would ask the Assembly's "Conference of Presidents" on that date to arrange for the debate to start "quickly"—if an agreement has been reached with West Germany on the future of the Saar and if the U.S. government has given assurance it will keep troops in Europe.

If those are forthcoming by May 18, it was reported, Foreign Minister Georges Bidault plans to ask that the debate start May 25.

The U.S. assurance is expected soon. To quiet French fears of a rearmed Germany, Britain pledged yesterday to keep troops on the Continent as long as West Europe is threatened and offered to integrate ground and air forces with the European army.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons the "United States shares with us all the NATO commitments . . . and I understand a full statement of the United States position may be expected shortly."

In Bonn, Wes German Defense Commissioner Theodor Blank told reporters today the United States would promise to keep troops in Europe as long as international tension remains and not to remove them from the Continent without prior consultation with the six EDC states. Blank did not give his source of informaion.

There were no such prospects, however, of satisfaction on the Saar issue. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Bidault have agreed that the status of the coal-rich border valley should be based on a Dutch plan to make it an autonomous, "Europeanized" territory. But each nation demands economic concessions in the area and talks between their representatives recessed last weekend without agreement.

The Cabinet in effect told West Germany and the United States to hurry up.

The Cabinet decision ended a three-day war of nerve between advocates and opponents of the European army. Followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, a leading opponent of EDC, threatened to quit the Cabinet if a date was set now. Members of Bidault's Popular Republican Movement (MRP) stoutly insisted that some action must be taken to end the delay.

Four of the other five EDC nations have ratified the treaty. In Italy, the fifth, the government has sent a ratification bill to the Chamber of Deputies and debate may start there in May.

Appoints Robertson Chairman of State Tax Commission

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Phil M. Donnelly appointed James M. Robertson, 63, of Kansas City chairman of the state Tax Commission today. He succeeds Charles C. Nance of Stockton.

Both are Democrats. Appointment to the six-year term requires Senate approval.

Robertson formerly was area rent director in charge of western Missouri and eastern Kansas and recently has been doing appraisal work for the Veterans Administration.

He has a long background of experience in real estate and appraising.

Among his past jobs were district appraiser for the Home Owners Loan Corporation, later regional appraiser, director of liquidating foreclosed HOLC properties and state loan director for the HOLC.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Callie L. Owens

Mrs. Callie L. Owens, 63, widow of Albert E. Owens, 1315 East Broadway, died at 4:45 a.m. Thursday at Bothwell Hospital, where she was taken Wednesday afternoon.

Her husband, Albert L. Owens, a Missouri Pacific conductor running on the Eagle, died Aug. 6, 1953, after retirement. They had purchased a home on Broadway.

Mrs. Owens was born at Grand Pass July 12, 1890, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. McClure, and in 1910 was married to Albert L. Owens. Before returning here they had made their home in St. Louis. Mrs. Owens was a member of the Epworth Methodist Church.

Surviving are: a daughter, Mrs. Alberta Dowding, Hanover, N.M.; a sister, Mrs. W. C. Fowler, and brother, George H. McClure, Kansas City, and three grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Gillespie Funeral Home where funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Monday, the Rev. Ralph Emerson Hurd, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church, to officiate.

Burial will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Services for Mrs. Clevenger

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Clevenger, 118 East 13th, who died Monday evening, were held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Gillespie Funeral Home, the Rev. Ralph Emerson Hurd, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church, officiating.

Russell Maag sang "Shadows" and "Abide With Me."

Burial was in Memorial Park Cemetery.

G. C. Forbes Services

Funeral services for G. C. Forbes, who died Tuesday morning at the Community Nursing Home, 209 East Seventh, will be at 2 p.m. Friday at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel. The Rev. Thomas W. Croxton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate.

Burial will be in Lee Cemetery near Beaman.

Soviet Claims 'Spy' Papers Are False

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The Soviet Embassy said today that the "spy" papers Soviet diplomat Vladimir Petrov took to the Australian government are fakes. Yesterday the embassy charged the Australians had kidnaped Petrov.

"There's not a thing missing—all embassy documents are here," press attache G. I. Kharikovetz told reporters today.

Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies already had brushed off as "ludicrous" the kidnap charge. He was certain to take the same attitude toward the "fake papers" story.

The Prime Minister told a press conference that Petrov brought "some hundreds of documents" exposing a Soviet spy network when he voluntarily surrendered himself to Australian security officers last week and was granted political asylum.

With Soviet Ambassador N. I. Generalov nodding assent, Petrov's 35-year-old wife made the kidnap charge during a press conference at the Russian Embassy yesterday. The attractive honey-blonde woman said she was sure "he wouldn't leave me because we are married to each other."

Fire at Church Farm Gives Legislature An Extra Assignment

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A fire at the Penitentiary's Church farm west of here Monday night has given the Missouri Legislature an extra job in the closing days of its special session.

Gov. Phil M. Donnelly reported yesterday after an inspection it would cost around $3,000 to rebuild the machine shop destroyed by the blaze and at least $15,000 to replace enough machinery to use in this year's farming operations.

The additional $18,000 is expected to be tacked onto a prison appropriation bill pending in the Senate. It carries $500,008 for prison operations and $20,000 for other repairs and replacements.

One appropriation bill was signed by the governor yesterday. It allots $20,000 as state aid for the Boone and Audrain County Memorial Hospitals.

Woman Sentenced As Gem Smuggler

NEW YORK (AP)—An Israeli woman, who pleaded guilty to smuggling more than $100,000 worth of uncut diamonds into the United States, yesterday was sentenced to a year and a day in prison.

But Federal Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo told Mrs. Ruth Hakohn, 28, of Tel Aviv, he would reduce her sentence to time already served in jail—if she left the country and paid her own passage to Israel.

Her attorney said he hoped to obtain a visa for her within 30 days. She was arrested last Feb. 10 at Idlewild airport.

Sacred Heart Students Begin Long Vacation

By Barbara Lamy

Sacred Heart students were dismissed Wednesday noon to enjoy a long Easter vacation. The remainder of Holy Week being occupied with church services and devotions, they will also have a bonus of two absolutely "free" days — Monday and Tuesday. Classes will resume Wednesday morning.

Holy Week adoration hours for the high school are scheduled as follows: 5:30 to 6 p. m., the Marian Sodality; 6 to 6:30 p. m., the Junior Holy Name Sodality.

Edward A. Smith has filed suit against Floyd Woolery for $103.92 damages allegedly received in an automobile collision Feb. 20 in the 1000 block of West Broadway. Smith is represented by John C. McCloskey.

Engineers Remove Part of Wreckage Of Old Stern-wheeler

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The wreckage of the old sternwheeler "Atlanta," reported to have been sunk in 1860, has been partially removed from the Mississippi River as a hazard to navigation, Army engineers reported today.

Time and water had failed to soften the white oak timbers used for construction of the craft, but workers could punch holes in the pine wood cabins with a finger.

Positive identification of the boat couldn't be made from the wreckage, but James V. Smith of the Waterways Journal said the Atlanta, bound from St. Louis to Cair, Ill., snagged near that point and went down with its load of corn and barrelled whisky.

Reports Show Slight Sag In Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's economic advisers reported today that preliminary estimates show industrial production declined slightly in March, to a point about 9 per cent less than a year before.

The slight further drop in production, continuing a trend that set in last August, brought the Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production, seasonally adjusted, to 123, the White House Council of Economic Advisers said.

That meant that production of the nation's mines and factories in March was 23 per cent more than the average of production in the three years 1947 through 1949.

This month's index figure came out in the Council's monthly collection of economic indicators prepared for the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report. This report did not give production without seasonal adjustment.

The economic advisers also reported that the gross national product—the total dollar value of the nation's production of all goods and services—in the first quarter of this year dropped off to an estimated rate of 359 billion dollars a year.

This was 4½ billion dollars, or 1.2 per cent, less than the rate in the last quarter of 1953, and 12.4 billion dollars, or 3.3 per cent, less than the record 371½ billion dollar level in the second quarter of 1953.

Total output was about five billion dollars, or 1.3 per cent, less than the annual rate in the first quarter of 1953, a year ago.

The Council said the March decline in output was due to a further reduction in the output of durable goods. Almost the entire production decline since mid-1953 has been concentrated in manufacturing, and there in durable goods production.

The decline to an index of 123 in March brought production 14 points, or 10.2 per cent, under the high of 137 reached in July of last year.

The Council's report gave revised estimates on production in January and February, placing the index of factory and mine output in those months at 125 and 124 respectively. With the further one-point decline in March, this indicated a three-month slowdown in the production fall. Production fell from an index of 173 in July to 136 in August, then tropped off three points to 133 in September, went to 132 in October, then took three point drops to 129 and 126 in November and December.

Weatherman Expects More April Showers Ahead of Cold Front

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Missouri got a generous sampling of April showers during the night and the weather bureau expects a few more of them ahead of a cold front moving in from the west.

Heaviest amounts fell in the northwest corner of the state with Skidmore measuring 1.25, Maryville 1 inch and Grant City .95.

Lighter falls were recorded elsewhere with the southwest corner almost shutout.

Some of the other rainfall reports included: Kansas City .79, Sedalia .65, Harrisonville .64, Conception .61, Kirksville .56, Jefferson City .35, Rolla .25, Lexington and Waverly .24, St. Joseph .15, West Plains and Chillicothe .14, Springfield .13, St. Louis .09, Columbia .07, Farmington .05 and Joplin and Malden a trace.

The forecast calls for scattered showers and thunderstorms this afternoon in all except extreme northwest. They are expected to continue tonight in the southeast and extreme south-central areas.

Roller Skates Point Way to Two Children Dead In Refrigerator

HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Utah (AP)—A pair of roller skates was found lying in the doorway of a vacant Wherry Housing Unit apartment last night at Utah's Hill Air Force Base.

A neighbor, Howard Bell, went into the empty apartment to investigate. In the kitchen, he found a little girls sweater. He also noiced that the shelves of the apartment's refrigerator had been removed. He opened the ice box door.

Inside, sitting upright on the floor of the refrigerator, were the bodies of Joyce Mullis, 6, and her 5-year-old sister, Donna.

Both had been dead of suffocation for some time after apparently climbing into the refrigerator and closing the door behind them.

The discovery climaxed a search at Hill Field which had lasted for almost six hours. The girls, daughters of S. Sgt. and Mrs. Ray Mullis, disappeared about 3 p.m. yesterday.

State Saddle Club Assn. Plans Meet To Be Held Here

Nineteen clubs were represented at a meeting of the Missouri State Saddle Club Association meeting at the Courthouse Monday evening. J. Ed Taylor, president, was in charge.

Nich Iman, manager of the Farmer's Fair Horse Show, which is sponsored by the University of Missouri Ag Club, spoke in behalf of their show for May 7 and 8 at Columbia. Friday afternoon will be for saddle club members only.

The rules and regulations for all shows, set up by the special committee for all association shows, was presented and accepted.

The clubs voted to have the annual State Meet in Sedalia.

The Pleasant Hill Saddle Club, Western Horsemen of Sedalia, and the Lexington Saddle Club were accepted as new association members.

The first show of the associated clubs will be held at Boonville, May 2 by the Saddle Tramps Saddle Club of New Franklin.

Bill Would Provide $24,338,000 Federal Aid for Highways

WASHINGTON (AP)— Missouri would get $24,338,000 annually in expanded federal aid for highways proposed in a bill passed by the Senate and House Wednesday and sent to the White House.

The highway aid is divided into two general classifications—money to be used on state roads and money to be used on interstate roads.

Missouri would get $19,643,000 in state-road money and $4,695,000 in interstate-road funds.

The bill would authorize spending of a total of 966 million dollars in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1955. Actual appropriations would have to be made later.

The state-road funds would be supplied on a 50-50 federal-state matching basis and would be allocated within a state according to this formula: 45 per cent for primary, 30 per cent for secondary and 25 per cent for urban roads. The federal-state matching formula on interstate roads is 60-40.

Army Claims Mac Heard Cohn 'Threats'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Army "bill of particulars" on its row with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) asserts that it was in McCarthy's presence and with his "consent" that Roy Cohn voiced "threats" to Army officials if Pvt. G. David Schine did not receive favored treatment.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo) made public today the Army document which alleges in general that McCarthy and some of his aides "sought by improper means" to get special treatment for Schine, a former McCarthy aide who was drafted last November.

The Army gave the document to the Senate Investigations subcommittee yesterday as an outline of what it would offer when public hearings are held on the row. These are now tentatively scheduled to open next Thursday.

The document asserts that Cohn, youthful chief counsel to the subcommittee, in McCarthy's presence voiced "threats" to "cause the Army to be exposed in its worst light and to demonstrate to he counry how shabbily it was being run" if Schine did not get favored treatment.

And, it said, Cohn "in the presence of and with the consent of Sen. McCarthy" warned Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and John G. Adams, the Army's general counsel, that their cooperation or lack of it could have a bearing on the subcommittee's investigations of Reds in the Army.

On this score the document said that in a meeting with Stevens and Adams on or about last Nov. 6 Cohn and Francis P. Carr, the subcommittee's chief of staff, in McCarthy's presence requested a special assignment for Schine, a former colleague.

"These requests," the document said, "were coupled with promises reasonably to limit or terminate subcommittee hearings on Fort Monmouth."

The charge of threats from Cohn had been made by the Army before but the bill of particulars links McCarthy more closely with them.

In another development connected to the row, it was disclosed that the Army has dropped Frederick G. Fisher as one of the special lawyers picked to present its case at the Senate hearing. The reason Fisher's former membership in the National Lawyers Guild.

J. N. Welch, chief of the battery of lawyers retained by the Army for the public airing of the dispute, confirmed the shift—and the reason for it—today as witnesses were called for secret questioning to lay groundwork for the planned open hearings.

Welch said he dropped Fisher after learning of the former guild membership, because "I didn't want a diversionary affair."

The Lawyers Guild has been described by the House Un-American Activities Committee as "the legal oulwark of the Communist party." The collision between McCarthy and the Army is a side development in the senator's hunt for subversives in government, which recently has centered on the service.

The man picked to take Fisher's place, Welch said, is John Kimball Jr. Like Fisher he is a lawyer with Welch's Boston firm. Welch said the shift took place over the weekend immediately following the April 2 announcement that Fisher never did actually go to work on the case.

The closed door quiz session with witnesses was ordered after top Army officials filed their "bill of particulars" with the Senate investigations subcommittee yesterday, detailing their accusations that McCarthy had used improper pressure techniques. An informed source said the new outline was "stronger against McCarthy" than the original report which set off the inquiry.

The subcommittee, putting on all speed it can to get the public hearings started a week from today, would not name the witnesses to be questioned by staff members, nor even tell just where or when the session would be held.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), succeeding McCarthy temporarily as subcommittee chairman, told newsmen the group's special staff had orders to start "examining the witnesses and evidence" while the senators themselves grapple with problems of procedure.

New Embezzlement Charge Is Filed Against O. L. Ring

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A new charge of embezzlement, also naming the man who refused to testify against him, has been filed against O. L. Ring, former head of Teamsters Local 541 here.

Circuit Judge John F. Cook last Monday dismissed an earlier embezzlement charge against Ring when O. F. Rigney, secretary-treasurer of Local 541 and another state witness refused to testify. Rigney was named with Ring in the charges filed by the county prosecutor yesterday.

Both are also accused of taking funds from the union under false pretenses.

Ag Dept. Gets More Money Than It Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department held the distinction today of being the first big federal agency in recent years to win House approval of more money than it asked.

House action in making addition after addition to the bill recommended by its Appropriations Committee brought an angry declaration from Rep. H. Carl Andersen (R-Minn) that Secretary of Agriculture Benson sought to circumvent the committee through a secret White House meeting.

"It's not the Congress of the United States writing this bill," said Andersen, head of the subcommittee which wrote it. "Here we are turning over to Mr. Eisenhower and the secretary of agriculture . . . the right to write the agriculture bill."

The measure, carrying $1,040,602,654 in cash and loan authority for the year starting July 1, was passed by the House yesterday and sent to the Senate. The amount includes $720,102,654 in cash and $320,500,000 in lending authority—$21,360,841 more cash and 45 million more loan authority than the department requested through the Budget Buerau.

Never before in the memory of Appropriations Committee veterans had a big government department been voted more cash than it had requested. The customary procedure is for Congress to cut budget requests.

The House action was a stinging setback for the Appropriations Committee, which had recommended that the department get the exact amount of cash and 45 million more lending authority than it asked.

Andersen said he wasn't invited to a secret White House meeting last Saturday, but he intimated some other House members were.

Finally he said that "if the lid has been blown off this bill, and I have no fiscal responsibility," he too would support amendments for additional funds.

The fact that the House approved 10 separate amendments boosting committee recommendations—none of them by close votes—indicated that proponents of bigger allotments, led by Rep. Hunter (R-Calif), had organized well in advance.

Biggest increase added by the House was $6,452,584 to the school lunch program, which Andersen's committee already had hiked by $9,011,416, and which was allotted $83,464,000 instead of the 68 million requested originally by Benson.

Lesser increases were voted for research, experiment stations, extension service, forest roads and trails, free soil conservation maps, marketing research and state marketing activities. In most cases, the house restored cuts recommended by the Appropriations Committee, which had trimmed some individual items and increased others.

Grand Jury Indicts Woman In Poisoning

WHITESBURG, Ky. (AP) — The Letcher County grand jury yesterday returned an indictment charging a wife with feeding her husband rat poison in a bottle of soda pop.

The true bill against Mrs. Martha Conner, about 35, charged her with "malicious poisoning."

Her husband, Willie Conner, a coal miner about 40, became violently ill last October and was in a critical condition for several weeks. He is fully recovered.

Investigating officers said the Conners had been arguing shortly before Conner became ill.

Man Would Prefer to Return To This Earth as a Woman

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The other night I heard a man say right out loud that if he ever had a chance for a second life, he would prefer to return to the earth as a woman.

This startled me. Being a woman has always seemed to me one of those unlucky mishaps in life that happen to about half the population.

Whenever I hear a woman bragging about how she enjoys womanhood, I figure she's just being a good sport and is trying to put her best face forward and make the most of a raw deal.

But for a man to want to essay the role of woman! Outlandish! Would a dog want to be a cat?

"Why?" I asked this male traitor.

"Because woman is the sex of the future," he said, "and anyone who wants to keep in step with the times would, if he had a choice, naturally prefer to be a woman.

"This is the twilight of the American male. Men have been going downhill ever since they quit packing swords and started carrying umbrellas.

"In two centuries man has degenerated from cock-of-the-walk to a servile lackey to a lady. Women control so much of the world's wealth today that five out of six husbands have to borrow bus fare from a woman even to go to work in the morning.

"In another generation at the most the process will be completed. Then only ignorant people will be men. But they won't be really men; they'll be abject prisoners. Worse even—slaves."

"Just how do you figure that out?" I asked.

"Well," he replied, "let's look at what is happening. In the old days a man came home tired and hungry and looking for peace. His wife was all worn out, too, from toting in firewood, doing the washing, lugging water from the well, feeding the kids and slopping the pigs—and maybe even milking a few cows.

"Both husband and wife were too exhausted to pick on each other, and marriage was a draw."

"You mean it isn't now?" I murmured.

"Anybody with any sense knows it isn't," he replied sharply. "the husband still comes home all worn out from work. But the housewife has so many gadgets to lighten her labor that she still has some fight left in her at nightfall. This gives her a big edge in an argument; the huband simply doesn't have the strength left to defend himself."

"And you think this situation will get worse?" I inquired.

"Worse?" he whined. "Wake up, man, you're facing utter disaster! In the pushbutton home of the future, a wife will press one button—and zingo!—The dishes are washed. She plays another small tune on a control panel and the vacuum cleaner will gallop around the house and clean it up in 12 minutes.

"The wife will then have the rest of the day in which to lie down and rest while she dreams up new ways to act as a Monday morning quarterback to her husband.

"When he comes home, all worn out naturally, she will push another button and out will pop his precooked, pre-frozen dinner. By the time he has gupled it down there is mama, fresh and strong as a buffalo in April, ready to tell him 1,001 things that are wrong with him. What chance has he to argue back? He's all worn out from earning her a living.

"All he can do is to sit there and cry, remembering a time when men were men, and swords hung from their side.

"Marriage in the future will be strictly a one-way deal—and it'll be the woman's way. Wouldn't anyone with a grain of intellect prefer being a woman in that kind of a civilization?"

Oh, well! I still think that guy is probably as nutty as a pecan grove, but on the other hand—hmm, hmm, hmm.

State Prison Gang Will Dine Sunday In Fancy Style

PIGEON KEY, Fla. (AP)—A 50-man state prison gang will dine in high style here Sunday.

Chairman Cecil Webb of the State Road Board ordered that the work gang, which will maintain the Florida Freeway (Overseas Highway) be given a "good meal" from the stores of fancy food left behind when the old Overseas Board was dismissed last week.

"The men who risked their lives painting the bridges got cold cheese and balogna sandwiches without butter or other spread," Webb reported. "The box lunch passed out to them was strictly a starvation diet."

He said the food lockers contained "food that even the most expensive restaurant or millionaire's house wouldn't ordinarily have" and that the Sunday menu would include such items as Long-Island duckling, steaks and delicacies, squab, stone crabs, smoked oysters, Kentucky hams and other expensive meats.

Vietminh Rebels Sneak In, Dig Up An Airfield

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The French high command reported today Vietminh rebels sneaked in during the night to blow up the northern end of the main airstrip at beleaguered Dien Bien Phu and dug trenches across the strip. They finally were driven off.

The Communist-led attackers got within 100 yards of the French defenders in the hard-pressed northwest corner of the fortress where the airstrip lies. With Bangalore torpedoes—high explosives on the end of bamboo sticks—they managed to rip up a big hunk of the airstrip's steel matting.

(n Tokyo, the U. S. Air Force announced the temporary transfer of a squadron of American C119 Flying Boxcars to the Philippines for airlifting supplies to Indochina. The Air Force said the squadron personnel would not normally travel the Indochina run, but would serve in maintenance, supply and administrative capacities.

The rebels have poured tons of artillery shells onto the Dien Bien Phu airstrip and put up a curtain of antiaircraft fire to keep planes from landing with supplies or evacuating the wounded. Thus far, the French have continued to repair the field each time it is hit in the hope of eventually being able to get planes in.

The French did not reveal either their own or the enemy's losses in driving off the infiltrating Vietminh from the airfeld last night.

The high command said the Vitminh still was putting heavy pressure against positions in the northwestern corner. They have dug trenches close to the barbed wire barricades and have sown antipersonnel mines through the area to hamper French counterattacks.

Everybody who lives under a roof should read about the Carrier Weathermaker Home

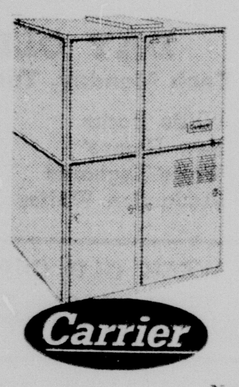

You need a new kind of home. Your way of living has changed ...your house hasn't. It's still almost the same as in Grandpa's day. New appliances and central heating made a change, but generally you don't sleep any better, eat any better, have less dirt in your house than Grandpa did.

Today you need a "Comfort System." We mean the Carrier Weathermaker Air Conditioner that keeps your home comfortable all year. It heats in the winter, cools and dehumidifies in the summer, circulates filtered air always. An old or new home can now become a Weathermaker Home.

Built around air conditioning. That's the Weathermaker Home. It gives you, your architect and builder more freedom. For example, a Weathermaker Home doesn't need windows on all four sides. You can group them, for a view, for solar heating, for a feeling of space.

The Weathermaker Home is simpler to build, gives you more space for your money, can save you enough to pay for the air conditioning. It will certainly give far greater privacy, quiet and comfort. How do you get a Weathermaker Home? Telephone, or mail us the coupon below. Or better, why not stop in?

Please send me the booklet, "How to have a Weathermaker Home."

Hubbard Will Host League Track Meet

Hubbard High School will be host to the Central Missouri Conference track meet at the Jennie Jaynes Lewis Stadium on the night of Wednesday, April 21, at 7:30 p. m.

Member schools competing in addition to Hubbard are: Hannibal, Dalton Vocational High School, Lincoln University Laboratory High School, Columbia, Moberly, Louisiana and Mexico.

Dalton Vocational High School is favored to win the meet, but Hannibal and Lincoln University stand a good chance to take the crown.

Corinthian Soil of Dalton will probably be the outstanding athlete of the meet. He tied the State Class "C" State indoor record for the 60 yard dash at Columbia several weeks ago at 6.6 seconds. He has been clocked several times in the hundred at 10 seconds flat and he will be one to be reckoned with in the 220 yard dash.

Hannibal is usually strong in the distance events. Coach Tipton of Hubbard hopes to unveil several point winners in Carter, Kyle, Tommy Johnson, Hayes and others. The preliminaries will be run off at 2 p. m. on the afternoon of the meet.

Don Newcombe Beats Giants For Revenge

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Don Newcombe finally has rid himself of the shadow that hung over him for 2½ years.

The big Brooklyn pitcher may have won the most important game of his career last night when he hurled the Dodgers to a 6-4 victory over the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds.

Although he wouldn't admit it, the triumph must have been in the nature of sweet revenge for the Negro right-hander. It was in this park back on Oct. 3, 1951, that he suffered the saddest moments of his life.

That was the fateful day when the Giants' Bobby Thomson hammered that heard-around-the-world homer in the ninth inning of the final playoff game to snatch a pennant away from Brooklyn. True, the homer was hit off Ralph Branca but it came after the Giants had batted Newcombe out of the box with three ringing hits.

The Giant-Dodger scrap was the only night affair in yesterday's five-game schedule. Homers by Gil Hodges and Junior Gilliam decided that one.

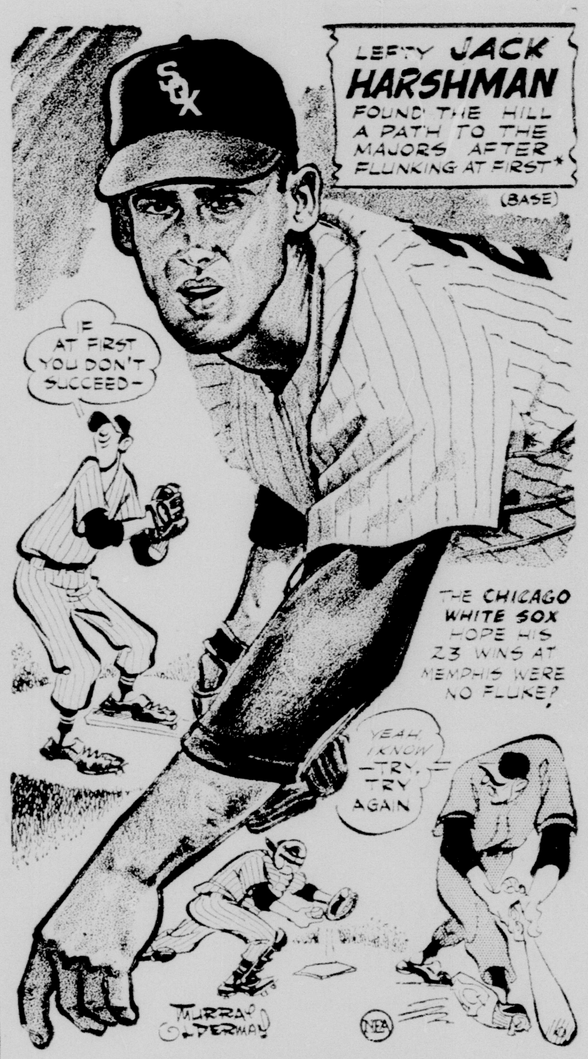

In the afternoon, Philadelphia, behind the four-hit pitching of southpaw Curt Simmons, vanquished the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-0. Third baseman Willie Jones moved up from seventh to leadoff in the batting order, drove in three Philly runs with a home run, double and two singles.

Bob Lemon threw a three-hitter at Chicago as the Cleveland Indians whipped the White Sox 6-3 to sweep the two-game series. The veteran right-handed ace permitted only one hit after the first inning. Wally Westlake poled his second homer in two days for Cleveland. Rookie left-hander Jack Harshman, first of four Chicago pitchers, was charged with the defeat.

A pair of ninth-inning errors by Washington second baseman Wayne Terwilliger presented the New York Yankees with the winning run as the world champions nipped the Nats 2-1 behind Eddie Lopat.

With one out, Johnny Schmitz walked Phil Rizzuto. Lopat topped a ball which Eddie Yost fielded at third and threw to Terwilliger for what looked like a certain double play. Terwilliger dropped the ball. A moment later he muffed a soft pop by Hank Bauer and Rizzuto scored from third with the winning run.

Baltimore's Orioles achieved their first American League victory in 52 years, edging out the Detroit Tigers 3-2. Rightphander Duane Pillete permitted six hits, protecting a three-run advantage his Oriole mates had grabbed at the expense of starter Ray Herbert in the first inning. Junior Stephens' two-run single was the decisive blow.

Sports Roundup—

Picks Giants to Beat Bums As National League Champs

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) This early, with the season so very young it's scarcely begun to breathe, there's already a strong suspicion here that a great many of the nation's baseball experts have made a bad mistake in assessing the Giants' chances in the National League race. If it isn't too late to be legal, we would like to take a flyer on Leo Durocher's lads to beat out the Dodgers.

The trouble was that most of the savants, including this one, have been busy all spring examining the teeth of the Dodgers and the Milwaukee Braves down in Florida while the Polo Grounders were getting themselves good and ready out West. None who did not actually see the club play with Willie Mays back in center field quite believed the reported transformation in an outfit that dropped its last 10 games with Brooklyn last season and limped home fifth.

Even the news that the Giants were ripping up their old sparring partners, the Cleveland Indians, failed to make much of an impression on the Florida Brigade. So what? Nobody was going to beat the Dodgers. Least of all a .280 hitting Negro boy who had just finished two years in the Army. The kid from Fairfield, Ala., couldn't make that big a difference if he were triplets.

That was what we said, and that was before we saw the Giants play with 2-year-old Willie back in center and Durocher, breaking every managerial rule, move out of his private boudoir and change his clothes right in the locker room alongside his players. Let us face it, men, this really is a new, fighting ball club, and it's got muscles.

Why a single player can make such a profound difference in a team which is composed of 25 or more grown athletes has ever been one of the game's major mysteries. He comes to bat only in turn, maybe four times per game, and he won't average much better than one hit. He won't make many fielding plays that a teammate might not have made. Adn yet, over the season, his presence in the lineup can inspire a team to win a flag.

Whatever that amazing quality is, there can be no doubt that Mays has it.

NCAA Schools Give Harsh 'No' To Big Ten

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Member schools of the NCAA gave a harsh "no" to the Big Ten Conference in voting for the seventh straight year to continue its limited nationally controlled program of televising football games.

Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, said today a mail referendum showed member colleges and universities favored continuation of the limited program by a vote of 184 to 26.

The Big Ten had urged a TV program which would permit a team to appear twice regionally, once at home and once away, or once nationally, whichever it desired. It had asked its members to vote against the NCAA proposal.

Some officials have predicted the Big Ten—officially the Western Conference—might go ahead with regional television this fall. It is expected, however, the big ten will go along with the NCAA program.

The 1954 program is essentially the same as last year. There will be twelve nationwide telecast Saturday games with regional TV games restricted to Thanksgiving Day.

Exceptions to the 1953 program are: There is no provision for telecasting sell-out games, and the panamoramic experiment in which short shots were taken from a number of games is being discarded.

A major team will be permitted to appear only once during the season. There is no limit to the number of times small college games may be telecast.

Enos Already Has One Distinction

NEW YORK (AP) — Enos Slaughter already has one distinction among American League players although he has yet to bat for the New York Yankees.

The ex-Cardinal is the only American Leaguer with more than 2,000 hits. He collected 2,064 in 13 seasons with the Redbirds.

Rocky, Nate Brooks Face Easy Opponents

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two of the nation's top boxers, Rocky Castellani and Nate Brooks, meet a pair of lesser opponents tonight before a home town crowd. Neither is expected to have much trouble.

Castellani, second ranking middleweight in the eyes of the National Boxing Association and ranked third by Ring Magazine, meets Pedro Gonzales of Pittsburgh.

Brooks, who recently won the North American bantamweight title in New York City, goes against Mickey Mars, a fellow Clevelander, in a second 10-rounder.

The bouts will not be televised.

Bevo Francis Remains Unruffled In Furor Over His Dismissal

EAST LIVERPOOL, O. (AP) — If the weather's good today, you will probably find Bevo Francis on the banks of the Ohio River waiting for the catfish to grab at the bait on his trot line.

Otherwise he'll probably do some "loafin' around" at the nearby community of Hammondsville.

At any rate, you can bet big Bevo, one of the nation's most publicized basketball players, is the most unruffled party in the recent furor that resulted in his dismissal from tiny Rio Grande College.

The college expelled Bevo Monday after he missed mid-term examinations, failed to show up for class and lacked excuses for a number of absences.

Thus ended—at Rio Grande at least—a fabulous, two-year career in which the gangling farm boy set a batch of unbelievable scoring records.

All 20 Eligible Golf Stars Will Be Present For Champion Tourney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Officials of the $35,000 Tournament of Champions said today that all of the 20 eligible golf stars, including Masters champion Sam Snead, will be on hand for the Nevada event next week.

Tournament Chairman Wilbur Clark, over whose Desert Inn Country Club course the tournament is played, said Snead confirmed in a long distance telephone conversation that he will compete at Las Vegas for the second straight year.

Lone Absentee from the ranks of players who have won a major tournament since April 1953 is Ben Hogan. Hogan again did not include the Tournament of Champions on his limited schedule of competition for 1954.

Babe Ruth Leaguers Divided Into Groups

The Babe Ruth League spring training plans were changed at a meeting held at the Elks Club Tuesday night. Due to the size of the squad, it was decided that the boys should be divided into groups, so managers and coaches can devote more time and attention to individual players.

All players are asked to report Thursday, April 15, at 5:00 p. m. On Saturday, the 17th, all pitchers, catchers, and outfielders will report at 9:00 a. m. All infielders and all 15 year old outfielders will work out on Monday, the 19th at 5:00 p. m.

Spring training will close on May 1, and players will be assigned to teams without delay. Every eligible player will be included in Babe Ruth League activity.

The official league season will open on Friday, May 28 and close on August 13. Two seven inning games are scheduled for each Firday evening, with each team playing twelve games.

383 Swimmers Compete

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A record field of 383 swimmers begins competition today in the 1954 national AAU women's indoor swimming and diving meet at the Welch pools here.

LaMotta Drops Split Decision To Kilgore

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Former champion Jake Lamotta gave the middleweight division no cause for alarm about his comeback as he dropped a split decision last night to unrated Billy Kilgore.

Kilgore, a ham-and-egger fighting for the biggest purse of his career, seemed a bit awed by Lamotta's reputation in the early rounds, but quickly gained confidence when he found he could take the "Bronx Bull's" best blows without blinking.

Then the Miamian came on with a stabbing left jab and enough good rights to Jake's head and body to win the nod from Referee Petey Sarron and Judge Gus Jacobson.

Sarron voted for Kilgore 97-95. Jacobson gave him a 98-94 edge. Judge Carl Gardner thought Lamotta won 98-93.

"I don't know if I'll keep on fighting," Lamotta said. "I haven't decided. I felt pretty good and I thought I was ahead all the way."

Jake, who quit the ring here 15 months ago when he was stopped by Danny Nardico, weighed 195 when he resumed training. He had peeled down to 167¼ for yesterday's weigh-in. Kilgore weighed 164¾.

Harmon Says Hogan Was Tired In Masters, Will Win at Baltusrol

MAMARONECK, N. Y. (AP)—Claude Harmon, just back from the Masters, said today Ben Hogan "looked like a tired fighter who had geared himself for 15 rounds only to find he had to go five more."

Then Harmon added:

"You can put this down in your book for certain—that little man is going to win the Open at Baltusrol."

Himself a winner of the Masters title in 1948, Harmon was one of the unsuccessful bidders in last weekend's golf fixture at Augusta, Ga., won by Sam Snead in an 18-hole playoff with Hogan.

The National Open will be played June 17-19 at Baltusrol in Springfield, N. J. This is the only big championship Snead hasn't won. Hogan will be shooting for Open No. 5, making him the leading all-time winner.

AF, Navy Titlists Will Meet Tonight For All-Service Crown

GREAT LAKES, Ill., (AP)—Andrews Air Force Base, Washington, D. C., the all-Air Force champion, and the Great Lakes Bluejackets, Navy titlist, will meet tonight for the world-wide interservice basketball crown.

They advanced to the finals last night in the start of the four-team interservice tournament. Andrews defeated the Quantico Marines of Virginia 81-77 and Great Lakes downed the all-Army champion, Camp Chaffee, Ark., 90-84.

Baltimore Welcomes Old Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore baseball fans stopped talking or listening today about the "good old days" and turned to rooting for th own big league Orioles.

And there was plenty of excitement in advance of the Orioles game today with the Chicago White Sox.

For half a century, the oldtimers have been ear bending about the "old Orioles."

To be sure, there was plenty to talk about and some of it is baseball lore. Just before the turn of the century, they won three straight National League pennants and twice the Temple Cup Series, forerunner of today's World Series.

They included still famous personalities such as Willie Keeler, John McGraw and Wilbert Robinson.

Babe Ruth first appeared as an Oriole member of a shortlived third major league, the Federal, in 1914-15.

The Orioles even made minor league history when they won seven straight International League pennants, 1919-25.

Many members of these pennant winners went on to become major league stars, but they were in uniforms in other cities.

Eleven old Orioles, Roger Bresnahan, Dan Brouthers, Candy Cummings, Lefty Grove, Rogers Hornsby, McGraw, Robinson, Hughey Jennings, Keeler, Joe McGinnity and Ruth are in baseball's Hall of Fame. That's four more than played for the St. Louis Browns, whom Baltimore ousted from the American League.

Reminders of those "old days" will be found in a spectacular parade welcoming the Orioles home today. In it will be a float in honor of the 11 Hall of Famers, Mrs. McGraw, and two of the game's grand old men, Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics and Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators.

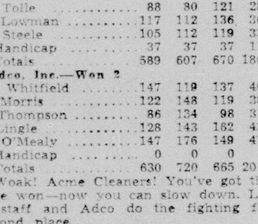

The parade will cover 3.8 miles. The 33 floats and 22 bands escorting the team through the city will take an hour and a half to pass in review.

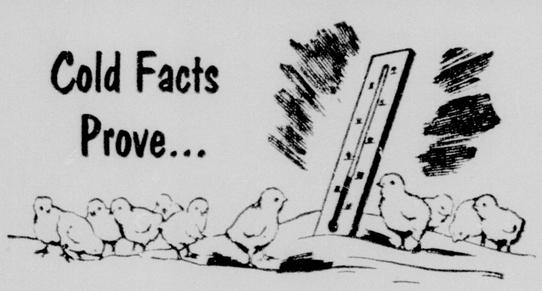

It's practically a holiday in Baltimore. Schools are closed, most city and court employes are excused from work.

And most of them and the 50,000 who will be at the game with the White Sox already have started talking back to the oldtimers. The "new" Orioles won their first game yesterday, 3-2 over Detroit, and the attitude has changed from looking back to ahead.

Ike Heartened By Government Work Done

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Prrsident Eisenhower says he is heartened by "the governmental accomplishments of the last 15 months" — since his administration took office.

The President made the statement in a letter made public late yesterday at his vacation headquarters here.

He wrote retiring Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes: "I cannot but be heartened, especially as the passing of time places these accomplishments in proper perspective."

The President's letter was to express regret over the resignation of Kyes, who is leaving the Defense Department May 1 to return to Gernal Motors. He is being succeeded by Robert Anderson, who was secretary of the Navy.

Kyes said April 6—when the White House announced his resignation—and repeated yesterday in a letter to the President that he had agreed to serve only one year and had consented to remain an additional 90 days.

Eisenhower told Kyes he was accepting his resignation with reluctance and expressed appreciation of "the great effort you have put into helping develop a sound preparedness program for the nation." The President added:

"Our efforts to preserve the peace and sustain maximum individual freedom and responsibility in the world have been enhanced by your service in the government."

Kyes, whose letter to the President also was made public here, said, "The American people are indeed fortunate to have you as their leader."

He said his travels overseas "have brought home to me the great confidence that has been instilled in the free world by your being president of the United States."

Eisenhower hoped to get in another round of golf today at the Augusta National Club. He played 18 holes yesterday with Cliff Roberts, the club's board chairman, after having to delay the start of the game several hours because of rain.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived here from Washington Tuesday night for a 10-day Easter holiday.

Laboratory Hosts Dentists at Dinner

On Tuesday evening, April 13, members of Sedalia Dental Society and numerous guests from the surrounding area were entertained at dinner by the Sedalia Dental Laboratory at the Old Missouri Homestead.

After dinner, the dentists gathered at the dental laboratory for a demonstration of a new unbreakable denture base material. The demonstration was presented by R. C. Hemphill and R. W. Phillips, owners of the laboratory.

Members of Sedalia Dental Society who attended were: Drs. Bast, Blaich, Hunter, Klein, Lawrence, Lee, Montgomery, Pearl, Rice, Stonner and Walters. Dentists from Warrensburg attending were Drs. Martin, Stevenson, and Rice.

Other guests included: Dr. J. Douglas, Sedalia Air Force Base; Dr. J. W. Dawson, Eldon, and A 3-c Bob Dickerson, now stationed at San Antonio, Tex., former employee of the laboratory.

Telephone Call Opens Way for Hotel Theft

RENO, Nev. (AP)—A woman telephoned desk clerk Dan Smith of the Mizpah Hotel yesterday and cried: "There's smoke coming from the top floor of the hotel."

Smith raced up three flights of stairs to investigate. When he came back, $9.65 was missing from the cash register.

Red China Announces Envoy's Promotion

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced today the appointment of Chang Wen-tien, ambassador to Moscow, as vice minister of foreign affairs. Chang, member of the Chinese Communist party's powerful Politburo, will continue as ambassador to Moscow, said a Peiping broadcast heard here.

Jury Acquits Man Of Children's Deaths, Blaming His Insanity

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—Acquittal by reason of insanity was the jury's verdict last night for Donald Sutton, 26, charged with murder after his two children were shot to death at the family home last Jan. 25.

The Butte miner was charged with the slaying of his 2-year-old son Ronald. His 4-year-old daughter Donna also was killed in the shooting. Sutton's estranged wife Anita was wounded.

The shooting climaxed an argument that started in a Butte bar. Sutton was found lying on the floor with a bullet wound in the chest.

Latin Class Presents Senior Assembly; Elections Are Held

By Norman Griswold

The first year Latin class presented the regular senior high school assembly in the school auditorium the first period Wednesday.

The class presented a skit, written by their Latin instructor, John Allen. Peggy Garannson introduced the cast and told in brief form the setting and its origination.

Those appearing were: Bob Morgan, Russell Zalin, Larry Owens, Craig Brougher, Marilyn Garrett, Clyde Kubli and the remainder of the class forming a musical group which sang "America" in Latin. Judy Case was featured as soloist. She sang "Indian Love Call," accompanied by Marilyn Kelly.

Election Winners

The results of the election for the Senior Student Council presidency were announced the first hour Tuesday. Larry Owen and Richard Bennett were the winners, which entitles them to run in the final election, to be held Tuesday, April 20th.

The winning candidate will begin his term of office at the start of the 1954-55 school term. The runner-up will serve as council vice president.

Finalists in the junior high's race for junior council president are Donnie Anderson and Leland Payton. The final election for this office will also be held Tuesday, April 20th.

Soviet Trying To Get China In UN Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union is trying to ram the Chinese Communists into private U.N.-sponsored big-power disarmament talks. The West wants to keep them out—and probably can.

That situation emerged from yesterday's meeting of the 12-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission, the second in six days on the question of setting up a subcommittee for such talks under the shadow of the H-bomb.

Sir Pierson Dixon of Britain introduced a resolution to name the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France and Canada to the subcommittee. He suggested it meet in London.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky of the Soviet Union called this "clearly one-sided." He said Communist China, India and Czechoslovakia also should be included.

Vishinsky held that Communist China belonged on the body as a strong military power and a "legal" member of the 11-nation U.N. Security Council which with Canda makes up the Disarmament Commission.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of the United States termed this "fallacious and unwise." He said the Nationalist China government was the legal Chinese member of the council.

"The United States," he declared, "opposes the inclusion of Communist China in the subcommittee for substantially the same reasons which cause us to oppose representation of Communist China in the United Nations."

Vishinsky siad India, whose Prime Minister Nehru has called for a standstill on hydrogen bomb tests, could make a significant contribution to disarmament negotiations, and that Czechoslovakia, whose uranium mines help supply russia's atomic plants, has as much right to sit in as Canada.

Lodge replied that the proposed subcommittee should be confined to countries on the parent commission, of which neither India nor Czechoslovakia is a member.

France, New Zealand, Colombia and Denmark also supported the British proposal. Brazil and turkey had spoken for it already, before Dixon submitted it formally yesterday.

This seemed to give the resolution 8 of the 12 votes on the commission, where only a majority is necessary for passage and the veto does not apply. But after several delegates said they wanted time to reply to Vishinsky, the debate was adjourned until Monday.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood---

A Trip Along the Strip At World Gambling Center

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Let's take a trip on the Strip . . .

Every night is carnival night on the Las Vegas Strip, which has 10 times the glitter and glamor of the Sunset Strip in Hollywood. So we'll tour the spots and talk to some of the world's highest paid shills (definition: those hired to induce gambling).

First stop is the Sahara, which is a symbol of the town's boom. A new wing is being started, doubling the number of rooms. And that still won't be enough to accommodate the crowds.

Starring at the Sahara are the Ames brothers, a towering quartet of clever singers, and George Gobel, who looks more like a graduate student in anthropology than a comic. But he's a very funny man. NBC must think so, having signed him for five years for his own show, which may start in the fall. He'll fly to Fort Worth Sunday to do the Comedy Hour.

"I sang and played the guitar on radio in Chicago before the war," George tells us. "I was a parlor comedian, but never told a joke on the air. But when I was in the Army—I flew B26s—I got a chance to do some comedy. I've been doing it ever since."

We move on to the Desert Inn, where Patti Page is headlining. Say, there's a cute dish. With a few pounds shelved, she could rival Doris Day in the movie sweepstakes.

Next, to the Sands to watch Mary Healy and Peter Lind Hayes, married performers who complement each other beautifully.

We go backstage, making our way through the showgirls. We find the Hayeses as happy together offstage as on. I ask them about their movie, "The 5,000 Fingers of Dr. T." Some folks like myself enjoyed it, but the film flopped.

"The title was bad," explains Mary. "People thought it was a horror picture, instead of a wonderful fantasy. But we hear Columbia is going to get a new title and bring it back again. It still might make money."

It's 2:30 a.m., but the Strip is still jumping. So let's head for the late show at the Last Frontier's Silver Slipper. This is the favorite meeting place of all the show people in town, thanks largely to an outrageous comic named Hank Henry. He is a porduct of the Borscht Circuit, the upstate New York resorts that spawned Danny Kaye, Sid Caesar, etc. Some day the movies or TV will discover Hank, who could be another Wally Beery.

We drop backstage to see the guest star at the Silver Slipper, Buster Keaton. Morose-faced as ever, he tells of his recent troubles in Europe, where a producer tried to attach his belongings.

"It was my agent's fault," he said. "I was booked two places at once. When the case came up, I was given a woman lawyer, who figured it would be smart if I pleaded I was broke."

He says he isn't. He doesn't have the fortune he earned in the silent films; divorce settlements took that. But he has been working steadily, some in TV, but mostly abroad.

Profits Hold Up Better Than Forecast

By SAM DAWSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Profits are holding up better than many expected.

A nice handful of corporations are reporting that net earnings after taxes in the first three months of this year topped their first-quarter showing last year. This helps to offset those whose profits are feeling the pinch of the business activity slump which started almost a year ago.

Increased sales are announced by many companies—to confound the pessimists. Other corporations hose sales are off from a year ago still show earnings as good or better than last year. Some credit the death of the excess profits tax. Others report operating costs cut and equipment.

Many a corporation, however, can't join this happy throng yet. The list of those reporting sales down and profits off along with them is a lengthy one, and doubtless will grow as the flood of first-quarter earnings statements approaches its crest at the start of May. But even among these are many who report profits holding up better than sales, thanks to tax changes and cost cutting.

When all frist quarter corporate returns are tabulated the results may well show profits, lower on average than a year ago—but not by as large a percentage as many once feared. The bears reasoned—when corporate earnings for the final three months of 1953 slipped by 10 per cent, on average—that a much steeper slide would take place in the early months of 1954.

Earnings statements are just starting to come in. But clues to profits are being given in greater volume by corporate chiefs reporting to their stockholders at annual meetings now in full swing around the country.

Du Pont is a good example of a company whose sales slid in the first quarter, as compared both to to the previous year and to the final three months of 1953; but whose profits rose. The chemical giant's sales dipped 8 per cent in the first three months from 1953's first quarter and were 3 per cent below its final quarter. But its president says net earnings in the first three 1954 months should be higher than in either of the 1953 periods.

Companies reporting both sales and earnings up include Rayonier, Columbia, Ga. St. Regis Paper, Commerical Solvents, M.A. Hanna, Pure Oil, Ekco Products and a long list of banks.

Sales off but profits about as good or better are indicated by American Tobacco, G year, B. F. Goodrich, Thompson Products, Chain Belt and Parke, Davis.

Increased sales this year (with earnings yet unreported) are announced by Ford Motor Co., General Tire & Rubber, Norge Division of Borg-Warner, California-Pacific Utilities and Century Electric Co. among others.

Many industries, of course, show a much less pleasing picture. But often company executives temper their reports with predictions of better days.

Easter Bunny In Ill Repute Among Swedes

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The Easter bunny has a bad reputation in Sweden. Here Easter is a time of witches, bonfirse and of practical jokes.

The Swedish story is that the Easter bunny originated as the witch's hare, which was sent out to milk people's cows and steal for the witch. That theme is preserved in 15th century Swedish church paintings.

In Stockholm and other cities, children will get up early Easter morning, dress as witches, and go about in groups carrying kettles on the end of broomsticks, chanting "Glad Pask" (Happy Easter) and collecting money and candy.

Some will have been allowed to stay up nearly all night on Easter Eve dancing around hilltop bonfires (built "to scare away the witches"), dyeing eggs, eating and drinking.

How did witches get mixed up with Easter?

"They seem to have moved up on the calendar from Germany's Wlpurgis Night in May," said Albert Eskerod, a curator of the Northern Museum here, who has made a study of old Swedish traditions.

In villages all over the country, young and old go in for the Easter sport of "knock an egg."

Pockets bulging with hard-boiled eggs, they challenge all comers to tap eggs together. The loser, whose egg cracks first, must surrender it. The winner goes on accumulating as many eggs as he can crack. Some use porcelain eggs, but they must take to their heels if found out.

Webb Gives $350,000 In Divorce Settlement

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jack Webb, the Dragnet star, has handed his former wife $350,000 in settlement of their financial controversy.

The ex-wife, actress Julie London, got $150,000 in insurance policies, $50,000 in cash and a trust fund of $150,000 for herself and their two children. The payments were made yesterday, in accord with terms of their divorce agreement.

He Mixed the Wrong Remedy With His Pipe

DENVER (AP) — Everett Watson, 82, dunked his bandaged hand into a basin of turpentine last night to relieve the swelling caused by arthritis.

The home remedy was so soothing, he settled back in a chair and lighted his favorite pipe.

He was released from Denver General Hospital after treatment for hand burns.

Ex-St. Louis Publisher Dies of Infirmities

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Funeral services will be held here Saturday for Gustavus A. Buder, 83-year-old attorney and former newspaper publisher who died at Lutheran Hospital yesterday of infirmities.

Buder published the old St. Louis Times until its sale to the Star Chronicle Publishing Co. in 1932. He was president of a real estate company and was a director of several St. Louis business firms.

Costa Rica Demands Explanation of Troop Shift by Nicaragua

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Costa Rica has called for an explanation from Nicaragua of reported troop movements on their border.

Reports received here today said Nicaraguan forces have been posted on the border and that troops surround the Costa Rican Embassy in Managua.

Foreign Minister Mario Esquivel told a news conference that Costa Rica would appeal to the Organization of American States in Washington unless Nicaragua gives a satisfactory explanation.

Two Pasture Tours Here Next Tuesday

By Merle Vaughan
Pettis County Agent

Two pasture tours have been scheduled in the south part of Pettis County for next Tuesday, April 20. The morning one will start at 9 o'clock and will cover an area south of Smithton while the afternoon one will start at 1:30 and will include several farms south of Green Ridge. J. Ross Fleetwood, extension specialist in field crops, will assist with the tours.

The morning tour will start on the Olen Monsees farm, which is located about 1¾ miles south of Smithton on the west road out of town. Olen lost most of his renovated pasture last year and the pasture we see Tuesday will be fescue, orchard grass and brome seeded in wheat that is being pastured out.

Frank Wagner's farm will be the next stop. It is a mile south, 1½ west and ¾ mile south. Here we will see old fescue originally seeded with oats and new fescue in barley and wheat. They wintered 27 cows and 2 horses on 12 acres of fescue and 12 acres of barley with very little hay fed. The man on the farm, Lewis Sunderland, said the horses wouldn't eat any hay.

The third stop will be at James Bradley's, which is the old Conrad Siegel farm located about 2 miles south of Lutman Store, or 4 miles east of Bahner. Jim is a newcomer but followed instructions in renovating 2 pastures in the fall of 1952 and in not over pasturing them in 1953. He has a fair stand of fescue in one pasture and a similar stand of orchard grass in the other. The ladino clover coming back from seed was particularly noticeable in the fescue.

The last stop will be at a field on the Frank Van Dyke farm. The field is located ½ mile east and ¼ south of Lone Star school. The pasture is fescue, timothy and lespedeza and was seeded in the fall of 1950.

Afternoon Tour At 1:30 at Wiskurs

The afternoon tour will start at the Wiskur Bros. pasture (D. P. Dyer farm), which is located on the south side of Highway 52 and about 6 miles west of Highway 65. Wiskurs have one pasture of orchard grass and lespedeza and another of fescue and timothy. They also have a new field of alfalfa just across the road.

The second stop will be at Carl Romig's (Duane Ewing farm), which is about 1 mile on West and 1½ North of Wiskurs. Carl and Duane plowed this field on the contour after I helped them with lines and seeded the fescue in the spring with oats. This is one of the few fields where clover came through the drought. They also have some new alfalfa.

For the next stop we will come back to the highway and go 1¾ miles west of Highway 127 to the P. S. Kilpatrick 120. This is orchard grass and was visited on the tour 2 years ago. I understand it grew so rank last year that it was finally cut for hay.

The two farms of Charles Walkup make up the last stop. We will go a mile west of Kilpatricks, 2 miles north, ¼ east and ¼ north. This pasture was seeded last fall and has a good stand of timothy and fescue, but no ladino, though now he has reseeded it. I marveled at the stand of grass and he admitted discing it about 10 times ahead of seeding to hold the moisture.

The other farm is ¾ mile on north, ¾ east and ¾ north. Charley says he has a good stand of ladino clover in this pasture that came through the drought.

Early Artillery

In the battle of Formigny, in 1450, which marked the advent of field artillery, the French, with two small cannon, killed 3,750 of an English force of 4,500, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Bryan to Show Holy Land Slides Here Tonight

Rev. David M. Bryan will illustrate the events of Passion Week with colored pictures he took in Palestine as a part of the First Christian Church's Holy Thursday communion service this evening at 7:30. Mr. Bryan visited Palestine in the spring of 1951 and again in the summer of 1952 and out of the hundreds of colored pictures he has taken in that country he will select a series to illustrate the whole last week of Jesus' life and death and crucifixion and resurrection.

The Holy Thursday communion service is one in which Christian churches have traditionally celebrated the anniversary of the Last Supper. It was on Thursday evening before his arrest and trial that Jesus took his disciples to an upper room and there was instituted the remembrance we call the Lord's Supper or the Communion Service.

This will be the third successive year in which Mr. Bryan has given this illustrated account of the Passion Week events. Some of the pictures he has to illustrate the narrative from Palm Sunday to Easter morning are pictures of Bethany, the Mount of Olives, the Garden of Gethsamene, the Kidron Valley, several pictures of Jerusalem and her streets, the Garden of Joseph of Arimathea and the Tomb of Our Lord, and many other pictures which will help make the closing events in the life of Jesus realistic and even contemporary.

Striped College 4-H Club Demonstrations

There were 32 members and eight visitors present at the meeting of the Striped College 4-H Club held April 6 at the school.

The following demonstrations were given: "How to Wash Dishes," by Jo Ann Green; "How to Splice Wire," by Bonnie Schupp; "How to Pass A Knife," by Eddie Shipley, and "How to Fold a Handkerchief," Margaret Bohon.

The club voted to bring old clothes to send overseas and also to bring pieces for quilt blocks to give to Buena Vista.

A hayride and wiener roast is planned for April 29, and also a banquet is planned for May 14.

A committee was appointed to plan a Rural Life Sunday.

The next meeting will be May 4 at 8 p. m. at the school.

Oak Grove Busy Bees Have Demonstrations

The Oak Grove Busy Bee 4-H Club planned a wiener roast and hay ride for April 24 at the meeting held April 1 at the Oak Grove School.

Two demonstrations were given: "How to Take a Soil Sample from a Garden," by Bobby Schlobohm, and "How to Make a Sewing Box," by Connie Adams.

There were 12 members, three leaders and one visitor present for the meeting.

The next meeting will be held May 6 at the Oak Grove School.

STAR-SPANGLED SOLUTION — Rep. Craig Hosmer (R., Calif.), center, has introduced a bill in the House offering this design for a new flag, if Alaska and Hawaii are admitted to the Union. Conceived by C. Parker Ruff, of Long Beach, Calif., placement of the stars outside the blue field could save some fifty million dollars in flag replacements. Secretaries Pearl Ledford, left, and Janice Hall help hold the flag.

Safe-cracker, Escape Artist Is Sentenced To 30 Years In Prison

HILLSBORO, Ore., (AP) —George Robert Nelson, 30-year-old safecracker and escape artist, was sentenced to 30 years in the state prison here yesterday.

Nelson was arrested in Toledo, Ore., Monday to end a police hunt that covered half the United States and nearly five months of time.

Nelson escaped from the county jail here last November while he was awaiting sentence after pleading guilty to a charge of blowing open a supermarket safe. He was sentenced on that plea yesterday.

He was caught by police in Kansas City but while they were searching his apartment Nelson escaped, wearing handcuffs. He returned to Oregon where his girl had been sentenced to five years in prison for helping him with his original escape. He said he returned to help her.

Nelson told Sheriff R. H. Busch he paid his way back to Oregon with proceeds from 20 or 30 burglaries in Oklahoma, Texas and Louisiana after leaving Kansas City.

Wet Weather Spreads Over Broad Sections Of Mid-Continent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wet weather extended over broad areas of the mid-continent today. Generally mild weather continued over most of the nation.

Thunderstorms and showers were reported from the central and northern plains eastward across the middle and upper Mississippi Valley to the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley.

Drizzle and light snow fell in parts of New England while fog was reported in the south Atlantic states and along the Gulf and California coast.

Cooler air moved into northern Rockies and headed southeastward. Record readings for the date were reported in midwest cities yesterday, including 91 at Sioux Falls, S. D. and 85 in Minneapolis.

Heavy rains drenched sections of the Rio Grande Valley in Texas, with four deaths reported since the rainfall started last Friday. More than 500 persons have been forced from their homes and plans were made to evacuate some 4,000 others.

Judge Overrules Defense Motion In Reds' Trial

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A defense motion for acquittal has been overruled by U. S. District Judge Roy W. Harper in the trial of five Communists charged with conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the government.

In his decision yesterday, Judge Harper said prosecution testimony provided "an emphatic record of 11 instances of the teaching and advocating of force and violence to overthrow the government."

Defense attorneys argued during a three-day hearing on the motion that the government had failed to offer proof of its charges against the five defendants.

He added that after a study of the testimony and evidence he had found there was more truth to this record of the advocacy of force and violence than in any other case tried under the Smith act.

Also denied by Judge Harper were motions for a mistrial and dismissal of the indictment.

Judge Harper said "I come to the conclusion that there is ample testimony to connect each defendant with the conspiracy. Not because of their Communist party membership, but with respect to their activities in connection with the Communist party. The testimony definitely ties down some overt acts."

Last week Judge Harper overruled a motion to strike the testiony of government witnesses. That decision together with yesterday's action opens the way for the start of defense testimony Monday.

The defendants are William Sentner, Marcus A. Murphy, Robert Manewitz, James F. Forest and his wife, Dorothy Rose Forest.

'Corpse' Tells Firemen Fire Didn't Kill Him

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Firemen probed the smouldering ruins of 70-year-old Joseph Coleman's home in search of Coleman's body.

A man appeared and asked what they were doing.

"We think a man named Joe Coleman died in there," a fireman said.

The man replied:

"Well, that's me. I'm not dead and I'm not in there."

Coleman told firemen he had been out collecting junk when flames destroyed his home.

Knob Noster Cage Squad Banqueted

The pep squad of the Knob Noster High School entertained the members of the basketball teams and the high school faculty and their husbands and wives at a banquet Friday evening in the high school auditorium.

The high school colors of orange and black were used in the decorations. The trophies which had been won were in the center of the room.

Orange colored booklets with black lettering, in the shape of a basketball, were the favors.

On the U-shaped tables were white tapers in crystal holders and white nut cups with white pennants inscribed "Panther's."

The following program was given: invocation, Mrs. Dean Saxton; toast, Mrs. Charles Gottschalk, pep squad sponsor; welcome, Patsy Nace; acceptance, Tommy Harfield; introduction of the speaker, Kirby Clark; address, Lou Comer, Warrensburg, head football coach at CMSC; speech, Supt. A. C. Teague; and basketball awards, Coach John Snider.

Pep squad officers are: president, Patsy Nace; vice president, Shirley Duffer; secretary, Regina Henderson; treasurer, Barbara Floyd; Cheer leaders, Mildred Heard, Lynnel Blaylock, Mae Bell Roberts and Rose Evelyn Parrott.

Letters were awarded to the A team and also awards were given to the cheer leaders.

Meet to Try to Avert Atomic Plant Walkout

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — Government mediators from Washington and Atlanta meet here today with CIO, AFL and management officials to try to avert a walkout threatened by 9,000 atomic production workers for midnight tonight.

Preliminary talks with each of the three groups separately began last night and continued until almost midnight.

The hourly paid production workers seek what the mediation service termed a "substantial wage increase" at four strike-threatened plants—three here and one at Paducah, Ky.

The AFL Atomic Trades Labor Council, comprising about a dozen AFL unions, represents about 4,500 workmen in two plants here—a nuclear energy research laboratory and a classified production facility.

The CIO United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers bargains for about 3,500 workers in the uranium separation center here and about 1,000 workers in a similar plant at Paducah.

More Red Prisoners Will Settle In India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Fifteen more North Korean and Chinese war prisoners who refused repatriation after the Korean truce will settle in India, defense ministry sources said today. Previously 20 had decided on India.

The future of 53 others who have expressed preference to live in Mexico, Switzerland, Sweden and Argentina, still is unsettled. India is trying, through correspondence, to work out their future with the United Nations secretariat.

Placing Fish In Some Creeks In The County

By Mrs. Verna Palmer

GREEN RIDGE—John E. Hickey, Smithton, conservation agent for Pettis County, was a business visitor in Green Ridge Tuesday morning. Mr. Hickey stated that the Conservation Commission plans to stock several creeks in the area with bass and crappie fingerlings.

The first consignment of fish for Basin Fork and Flat Creeks arrived Thursday.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Bailey residing six miles southeast of Green Ridge are building a new home on their farm. Their home was destroyed by fire some time ago. A group of friends and neighbors gathered at the Bailey farm to assist in the construction of the house, Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Alexander left last Sunday to return to their home in Chicago, Ill. They were called to Sedalia by the death of his father, Johnny Lee Alexander who died at his home there March 25.

Mrs. James H Durrill, Springfield, Mass., formerly Miss Mary E. Titsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Titsworth, will receive her B. S. Degree in business administration from Missouri Valley College, Marshall, at the graduation ceremony, Friday, May 30, with the 1954 senior class of the college.

Mr and Mrs. Floyd Brownfield and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Brownfield received word Friday that their mother, Mrs. Mary Brownfield had suffered a broken hip in a fall at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Tate in Kansas City.

She was taken to a hospital there.

Rev Johnson, missionary from Brazil, who was a guest speaker at the Baptist Church Friday evening, spent the night as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carlson and children.

Mrs. George Spickert was hostess to the members of the Triple F. Club, Wednesday afternoon at her farm home.

Special guests were: Mrs. Martin Roach and Mrs. Hook of Warrensburg and Mrs. Carl Spickert of Green Ridge. Ten members were present.

Mrs. Spickert assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Roach and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Carl Spickert served refreshments in keeping with the coming Easter season.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ford observed their 52nd wedding anniversary, Friday April 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford were married at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Hammond near Platte City, Mo.

Those from the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church attending the 47th annual spring meeting of Sedalia Presbyterial, Thursday, April 8, at the Presbyterian Church in Knob Noster, were, Mrs Earl B. Hinken, Mrs. Edna Ryan, Mrs. Waldo Harbit and Mrs. J. M. Palmer.

The theme of the meeting was, "Make Ready the Way."

Mrs. J A. Calvert left this week for Detroit, Mich., where she had been called by the illness of her son, John A. Calvert.

Pvt. C. W. Spry, who has been receiving his basic training at Fort Bliss, Tex., arrived Sunday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Spry and other relatives in this community.

He will report to Fort Bliss Friday, April 16, for further duty.

Brown and Faber Attend State C. of C. Board In St. Louis

Chester A. Brown, president of the Missouri Commercial Executives, and Jack Faber, president of the Missouri State Chamber of Commerce, have returned home from St. Louis where they attended the quarterly board of directors meeting of the Missouri State Chamber of Commerce, held there April 12 and 13.

Mr. Brown gave a report of recommendations of the Chamber of Commerce advisory committee.

There was a luncheon meet with the city officials of St. Louis, and members of the board of directors also attended the St. Louis Cardinals baseball dinner sponsored by the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, at which were all the baseball players and their wives.

While in St. Louis Mr. Brown and Mr. Faber made several industrial contracts.

Fill The Tea-Time Scrolls With 'Mushy' Ice Cream

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Crunchy, delicately brittle, with a faint fragrance of molasses, tea scrolls fit ideally into the spring entertaining picture. A friend sent us a basket of them yesterday. We filled them with softened ice cream and had a big time for ourselves.

Tea-Time Scrolls
(Makes about 48 scrolls)

One cup sifted all - purpose flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, 1½ teaspoons ginger, 1 egg, well beaten; ½ cup light or dark New Orleans type molasses, ½ cup sugar, 2-3 cup melted margarine or butter, 1 cup quick oats.

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and ginger. Mix egg with molasses, sugar and margarine. Add dry ingredients and oats. Blend well. Drop by teaspoonful 2 or 3 inches apart on baking sheet greased with margarine. Spread as thinly as possible with the back of a spoon. Bake at 300 degrees F. (slow oven) 12 minutes. Remove immediately with a spatula and roll around handle of a wooden spoon or into a cone shape. Serve cones plain or fill with whipped cream and dot with currant jelly, or fill with softened ice cream.

Oatmeal Cookies
(Makes 6 dozen)

Molasses used to be called a spring tonic, plus, of course, a little sulphur. But these molasses oatmeal cookies seemed to us to be a bit more agreeable for the springtime appetite.

One-third cup butter, 1-3 cup shortening, ¾ cup sugar, ¾ cup New Orleans - type molasses, 1 egg, ¼ cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 cups oatmeal, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup chopped nuts.

Melt fats; stir in sugar, molasses, egg, milk and vanilla. Sift together flour, salt, soda and cinnamon and blend in well. Fold in oatmeal, raisins and nuts. Drop on lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees F. (moderate oven) 12 to 15 minutes.

Know "Ham" Language

When you shop for a ham do you sometimes wish you knew exactly what these labels mean — "tendered," "ready-to-eat" and "fully cooked?"

In the first place, all cured and smoked hams prepared under Federal Meat Inspection are now required to be heated to at least 137 degrees Fahrenheit internal temperature; or else treated by approved methods of freezing or drying and curing that will make sure no live trichinae remain in the meat.

So, when you see smoked ham marked with the round purple U. S. inspection stamp, you may be sure it is safe for food from the standpoint of health and needs only to be cooked for good eating. Much of the cured, smoked ham on the market now is safeguarded in this way as Federal inspection is required for all meat sold across state borders.

Federally inspected hams labeled "tender" ("tendered" or "tenderized"), "ready-to-eat" or "full cooked" must all have been heated to at least 140 degrees Fahrenheit.

A "tender" ham, while partially cooked, needs some additional cooking in the home kitchen to give it a well done texture and full ham flavor. The packers label usually offers directions for this, adjusting them to the amount of heating the company has already given the ham.

You can serve a "ready-to-eat" ham without further cooking. However, some of these hams are more thoroughly cooked than others and many homemakers prefer to give such hams some home cooking for best flavor and texture.

"Fully cooked" hams have been heated in processing to the point at which they have "a fully cooked appearance throughout." This is a requirement of the Federal Meat Inspection Service for any ham so labeled. Such hams need no more cooking unless you wish to serve the meat hot.

Be Sure Woolens Are Clean When Stored For Summer

Never store wool garments that are not spotlessly clean. If they don't require laundering or the cleaner's attention, hang them in the sun; brush them thoroughly and remove even the smallest spot. If you fold them in a cedar chest, sprinkle in some moth crystals for added safety. If you wrap them in paper, use heavy paper, liberal quantities of moth crystals and seal the ends of the package with gummed strips. When you store woolens in a garment bag, be sure it is tightly closed. If you use a fumigant, hang the garment bag in a closet so the fumes will circulate through the bag. . . If your cleaner returns the garment in a sealed bag, satisfy yourself that he is reliable and that the garments will remain protected before you hang it away for the summer.

Mothers Need Milk, Too

Although most mothers try to see that their children get enough milk, often they don't do so well for themselves. In fact, diet surveys show that women generally do not use enough milk for adequate nutrition. As a group, women probably consume the least milk — less than men, and less than teen-agers. Older women use less milk than younger women. Even expectant mothers, whose nutrition needs can scarcely be met with less than a quart of milk a day, often use less. Now, when milk and milk products are abundant would be a good time to form that good-for-health habit of using a liberal quantity of milk each day. For money spent, milk gives you excellent returns in high quality protein, calcium, riboflavin and other minerals and vitamins.

Clear Out The Medicine Cabinet

Dr. Jekyll himself would shy at the clutter of bottles in many a home medicine cabinet. And the contents of some of those ancient containers might do more than merely change a personality. Old, unused medicine with illegible labels can be a hazard to yourself and your family. Many a person has met disaster just by taking medicine by mistake from an old poorly labeled bottle they thought was something else. Protect yourself and your family by discarding old bottles of medicine which might be confused with others in the cabinet. Keep only those medicines presently in use and those needed in every home for first aid. Springtime, when a woman's fancy turns to housecleaning, would be a fine time to give the home medicine abinet a new look.

Blew Its Top

Mount Rainier, according to the geologists, once towered to an altitude of 16,000 feet, judging by the steep inclination of lava layers on its sides. Then a great explosion, or a succession of explosions, carried off the top of the cone, and reduced it to its present level.

Civilian experts, capable of judging the strength of gunpowder, were used as field artillerymen as late as 1800, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

New, Spicy Lovelight Cake Comes Out as Soft as Silk

LOVE LIGHT will shine in the eyes of anyone you serve with this delicate and spicy cake.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Janet Kelley of Minneapolis knows her cakes. And, as it is time now for a new recipe, let's try her "lovelight" cake and celebrate the coming of spring.

Miss Kelley, director of consumer service for General Mills, asked us to lunch and this is what she not only served but showed us how to make. It really was

Spicy "Lovelight" Cake
(2-egg layer chiffon)

Two eggs, separated; ½ cup sugar, 2¼ cups sifted cake flour, 1 teaspoon double-action baking powder, ¾ teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ teaspoon nutmeg, ¾ teaspoon cloves, ¾ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup brown sugar (packed), 1-3 cup vegetable oil, 1 cup buttermilk.

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. as soft as silk. (moderate). Grease generously and dust with flour 2 round layer pans, 9x1½ inches, or one oblong pan 8 x at least 1½ inches deep, or 13x9½x2 inches. Beat egg whites until frothy. Gradually beat in white sugar. Continue beating until very stiff and glossy.

Sift flour, baking powder, soda, salt, spices into another bowl. Add brown sugar, oil, and 2-3 of buttermilk. Beat 1 minute, medium speed on mixer or 150 vigorous strokes by hand.

Scrape sides and bottom of bowl constantly. Add remaining buttermilk, egg yolks. Beat 1 more minute, scraping bowl constantly. Fold in meringue. Pour into prepared pans. Bake layers 30 to 35 minutes; oblong 40 to 45 minutes. Cool. Ice with Easy Penuche Icing.

Easy Penuche Icing

Melt ½ cup butter in saucepan. Add 1 cup brown sugar (packed). Boil over low heat for 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Stir in ¼ cup milk. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Cool to lukewarm. Gradually add 1¾ to 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar. Beat until thick enough to spread. If icing becomes too stiff, add a little hot water.

They call it "take home" pay because that's about the only place it will take you.

Shavings make Lumber

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—One company has announced plans for the first Pacific Northwest plant to convert wood shavings into wood panels. The ¾-inch boards have been produced previously in England and Germany.

All stone is rock, but not all rock is stone to a geologist. He seldom uses the word stone, except along with another qualifying word, such as sandstone or limestone. To him, the matter that forms the earth's crust is called rock.

Easter Tarts Make Happy Eating

Your Easter Party should have a dessert as pretty as an Easter bonnet! It will have, too, if you choose these Glazed Pineapple Tarts.

They are really something special: flaky individual pastries with an out-of-this-world filling and a topping of pineapple rings. Put a touch of cherry in the center of each slice of pineapple — and you will have happy eating for the holiday that is one of the gayest of the year.

Your family and guests will love the filling in these tarts, and they'll wonder what's in it. Keep the secret, or tell all! The trick is in using cream cheese blended with eggs, sugar, lemon juice and lemon rind for a custard that's smooth and creamy and has rich flavor.

To make the eight 4-inch tart shells needed for this recipe, use a packaged pastry mix or a standard pastry recipe for a two-crust nine-inch pie. Chill the dough thoroughly before rolling out to ⅛ - inch thickness. Cut pastry into rounds 1-inch larger than tart pans. Fit pastry into pans. Flute edges and prick sides and bottoms to prevent puffing. Chill pastry on pans before baking. Place on baking sheet and bake in a very hot (475F) oven, 8 to 10 minutes. (If desired, fill unbaked tarts with rice or fit a second tart pan over the tart shells for the first half of the baking period, then remove to allow the tart shells to brown.)

Glazed Pineapple Tarts

Ingredients: One No. 2½ can pineapple slices (8 slices), one 8-ounce package cream cheese, 4 eggs, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup lemon juice, 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, eight 4 - inch baked tart shells, 8 maraschino cherries.

Method: Place pineapple slices on absorbent paper to drain. Set aside pineapple syrup for glaze. Let cream cheese soften at room temperature in a mixing bowl. Beat eggs in top of double boiler until thick and fluffy. Gradually beat in sugar, lemon juice and lemon rind. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until custard is thick and smooth. Cool. Beat softened cream cheese until smooth and creamy. Gradually blend in cooled custard. Divide mixture among tart shells. Top each with a pineapple slice and place a maraschino cherry, cut into thirds, in the center of each. For Glaze: Blend 1 tablespoon cornstarch and 2 tablespoons cold water in a saucepan. Slowly add the pineapple syrup (about 1-1-3 cups). Cook, stirring constantly, until clear and thickened. While warm, pour over pineapple slices in tarts.

GARNISH AND GLAZE can make your Easter ham good looking as well as just plain good.

Profitable Cat

MILAN, N. H. (AP)—When Pat Hickey returned from work his wife told him their Mongrel dog, Mike, had refused to budge from the woodshed all day.

Investigating, Hicky spotted a large bobcat behind a wood pile, held at bay by the dog.

Earl Brooker To Head Pilot Grove Schools

By Mrs. J. H. Coleman

PILOT GROVE — Earl Brooker, Schell City, was a visitor in the Pilot Grove School Friday. Mr. Brooker will move here in July to assume duties as superintendent of schools.

Mrs. Roger Eichelberger will be the hostess Thursday to the Women's Society of Christian Service. Mrs. Stanley Schlotzhauer will be the leader.

Good Friday Services will be held at the Pilot Grove Methodist Church at 2 p. m. Friday. The Rev. Carl Opp is pastor.

Mrs. Lon Judy, Mrs. Herbert Meyer, Mrs. Clarence Harold Stegner and Mrs. Henry Jeffress were among 32 members of Cooper County Extension clubs making their third annual tour of Kansas City. Among the places they visited was Mercy Hospital. One of the 1954 projects is to aid the hospital. Clubs have sent sheets, quilts, clothing and money. They also attended the Home Show in the Municipal auditorium and visited the Unity Farm. The trip was made by bus.

Hubert Schuster moved from the farm of the late Mrs. Anne Schuster to the Walter Kraus farm which he purchased.

Mrs. Robert Gantner and son Vincent have returned to their home in Ferguson after visiting her sisters Mrs. John Neckerman and Mrs. William Schneider.

George Cobb, Vandalia, spent the weekend at his farm near Pilot Grove.

Mrs. Sam Mowrey has returned after spending several months with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Marchant and Mr. Marchant of Lemon Grove, Calif., and her son Robert and Mrs. Mowrey and children.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stevens left Thursday for Rolla to visit their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Wilhoit and son, Denny. They will also spend several days with another daughter Mrs. James D. Wilhoit, Mr. Wilhoit, Joyce and Jack, Columbia.

Mrs. John Immele, a patient several weeks at the St. Joseph's Hospital, where she underwent surgery, is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Twenter. Mrs. Immele is steadily improving.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coleman, Grandview spent Wednesday night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coleman and Thursday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cawley, Boonville.

Lewis Turner has returned after visiting several months in the south. In January Mr. Turner visited his brother, Jess Turner, in Magnolia, Ark., and his nephew, Oscar Turner, Homer, La. He spent several weeks with his son Norton, Mrs. Turner and children of Dallas, Tex.

Pvt. Norman Gerke, who has been stationed at Fort Riley, Kan. left this week for Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind., where he will attend school four and a half months, taking a course in shorthand.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Heim and daughters of Blackwater, visited their mother, Mrs. Grace Quinlan Saturday.

Miss Martha Story, music instructor in the Pilot Grove High School accompanied the boys' and Girls' chorus to Warrensburg Saturday where they took part in the district music contests. The girls' sextette, composed of Elaine Selback, Joan Overstreet, Lanore Schlotzhauer, Carolyn Cole, Wanda Bergman and Eva Quint received a Number 2 rating. The boys' chorus received a Number 3 rating. The mixed chorus received a Number 3 rating. The group received a Number 2 rating in performance.

A small crowd was in attendance at the C. T. Babbitt sale Saturday, when equipment from the broiler plant was sold. Leslie Chamberlin was auctioneer and Norman Johnson, clerk.

Mrs. Julia Stoecklein, Kansas City, was a weekend guest of her sister Mrs. Joe Neckerman and Mr. Neckerman.

Willie Klenklen, employed in Kansas City, was a guest of his father William Klenklen over the weekend.

Lightning struck a grain bin on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Stoecklein Saturday night. Sand the contents were destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ihnlfing and daughter Raymona Fayette, were guests Saturday night of Mr. and Mrs. Caryl Caton and son Cliff.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Twenter had as guests this weekend their sons Robert and Curtis Twenter, students of the University of Missouri, Columbia. Additional guests Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. George Martin and daughter Roberta of Kansas City.

Eartha Kitt a Headline Star But She's Still a Bit Scared

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Six years ago, a frightened little dancer played a night club here as one of the Katherine Dunham troupe. Today Eartha Kitt is the headliner at the same spot—and still frightened.

The Eartha Kitt show at El Rancho Vegas is the top ticket in this fabulous town, meaning that reservations are the toughest to get. The sultry songstress' records are selling in the millions. She is the star of a current movie hit, "New Faces." She has enough offers from TV, movies, niteries and the stage to keep her busy for a decade.

But she's scared.

"It wasn't so bad in the theater in New York, because I was accustomed to the theater," she remarked between shows. "But when I played the Mocambo (where she scored her first big hit), I was terrified. And when I opened here, I was so frightened I didn't think I would be able to go on. I was in a trance during most of the show."

It may be some consolation for her to know that George M. Cohan once said a performer couldn't be good unless he's a little scared before going onstage. And Eartha is good.

She's no beauty, resembling a dusky Spike Jones. But she has a fascinating, alive face which can range from a savage look to one of tenderness. She prowls around the stage with a feline grace. Her songs are as intimate as a wire-tapped boudoir.

For much of her success, she can thank the Los Angeles City Council. Certain councilmen objected to her material at a banquet here for the King and Queen of Greece last November. The mayor also chimed in that the songs seemed too racy for royal ears. The King, on the other hand, said he and his wife were delighted with the evening's entertainment.

"There is no doubt that the council gave my career the big push," said Eartha, who was nevertheless abashed by the whole affair. "People began buying my records to see if this girl was as bad as they said."

This is probably the first time in legislative history that city fathers have established a star. The furor came just in time to plug Eartha's disc, "Santa Baby," a catchy combination of sex and Santa Claus.

Eartha is a gal who refuses to be typed. She started out in show business as a dancer. But after going to Paris with the Dunham dancers, she turned to valizing. She also did a play with Orson Welles.

Now she's looking to other fields. She intends to start taking classical singing lessons. I asked her why.

"Because I was offered the film version of 'Carmen Jones,'" she replied. "That kind of singing will take a bit of practicing."

Powder Firm Says It Will Lease Ordnance Works at Louisiana

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) —Hercules Powder Co. says it will lease the government-owned ordnance works at Louisiana, Mo., and will have up to 150 persons employed there within five months.

The company announced yesterday it will obtain an option to buy the plant for not less than $3,625,000. That is the value the government has placed on the buildings and property. Supplies in the buildings are being inventoried.

The plant was built by Hercules during World War II and has been idle since 1945. It can produce about 42,000 tons of ammonia annually, using natural gas as a raw material.

The ammonia will be used as fertilizer and for industrial purposes.

Denies Report Pakistan Arranges Federation

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — A Foreign Office spokesman denied today reports that Pakistan was negotiating with neighboring Afghanistan for a federation of the two Moslem states. He admitted, however, that the two governments have been discussing ways to improve relations between them.

The spokesman described the federation reports as pure speculation. He also denied rumors that Pakistan and Afghanistan are discussing joint control of their defense and foreign affairs.

Food can now be packed into loose-fitting plastic bags which can be shrunk to fit their contents as they are sealed. Today's prepackaged foods demand wrappings that will not stretch, wear, puncture, tear, or allow vapors to seep in or out.

Rev. Kirchner At Syracuse Church Easter

By Mrs. B. A. Bridges

SYRACUSE — Rev. Wilbur Kirchner, a student at William Jewell College, Liberty, preached at the Syracuse Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening. He will also conduct the services Easter Sunday. The church is now without a pastor. Rev. Kirchner and son, Keith, were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Kirchner.

William Ray Anthony, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Anthony, has been elected reporter for the Baptist Student Union at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, and was one of the new officers to be installed in a very impressive ceremony at the First Baptist Church at Warrensburg last Sunday evening.

Mrs. J. D. Parsons, a patient at the Edwin Shaw Sanitarium, Akron, O., is convalescing satisfactorily. Mrs. Parsons has spent the winter with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sauve, Akron, O.

WOJG Vernan Whittle, son of Mrs. Freda Strout, who has been stationed at Omaha, Neb., has been transferred to Camp Carson, Colo. His wife and three daughters, who visited here and in Versailles for the past two weeks, have gone to Colorado to join their husband and father.

Mrs. Leon Quinn, formerly of Kansas City, is visiting in the home of Mrs. Freda Stroup.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bruns and two children of near Marshall, attended church services Sunday at the Baptist Church and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Bruns and son, V. A. Other dinner guests were Mrs. Kate Bruns, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bruns and Cynthia.

Mrs. R. E. Kirchner spent Wednesday and Thursday with her son, Kenneth Kirchner and Mrs. Kirchner, Jefferson City. Wednesday evening, she attended a dinner at the Missouri Hotel for the wives of the Rebublican Representatives, given by Terry Compton, state chairman.

Mrs. E. Drake Quits County Extension Post

By Mrs. Herbert Hansen

LINCOLN—Mrs. Elizabeth Drake Benton County agent at Warsaw, in a recent letter to members of the various clubs of this area, announced her resignation as home agent, effective April 1.

Mrs. Drake has served as county home agent for eight years and in closing her letter adds that she is looking forward to being a homemaker along with the rest of the women of the county.

Billie McCandless, age 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. McCandless, is convalescing satisfactorily at the Bothwell Hospital in Sedalia, where he has been a patient since the evening of April 1.

Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Poage and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Givens, Windsor, were dinner guests in the Dewey Larson home Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Summers entertained the following guests at a dinner in their home Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Levi Claycomb and son Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Metcalfe, Sedalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Davis and Misses Inez and Lizzie Davis, were visitors in the Willie Davis home in Ionia Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hansen and family, were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Hansen's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Poague, Hickman Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hare, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Owens and Rev. Jerry Wright, Springfield, pastor of the local Christian Church, were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Clara Hare. Mrs. Hare's son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hare and children, Warrensburg, were afternoon callers.

Mrs. Ed Harriman, Clinton, is spending this week in the Paul Ed Taylor home.

H. H. Balke has returned home following an extended visit with relatives and friends in the state of California.

Doris Attwood, Kansas City, spent the weekend with her parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Attwood and Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rank, Calhoun; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hansen and Emil Young, Sedalia, were dinner guests in the C. A. Hansen home in Springfield Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis and children, had as their guests for dinner Tuesday night: Misses Inez and Lizzie Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Davis and the Rev. and Mrs. Emmet Farier.

Several from the local Baptist church attended the Worker's Conference held at Harmony, Monday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Drake recently announced that the Benton County Council of Women's Extension Clubs will observe Home Demonstration Week this year with a 1 p. m. dessert luncheon, May 4 at the Methodist Church basement in Warsaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Heerman and family, Clarinda, Ia., were guests for several days last week of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Heerman and children.

Miss Jennie Perry has returned to Weaubleau after spending a few days at her home here.

Horace Scott, Kansas City, was a weekend guest of his parents and brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scott, J. P. and Raymond.

Mr. and Mrs. John Swearngin and family, Blue Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Bob McFarland and daughter, Kansas City, and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Foster were dinner guests Sunday in the Fred Foster home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gutherie visited in the Leon Roylins home in Marshall Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Jackson has returned home following a few days visit with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Elbert, Windsor.

That Easter Dinner Calls for Ham

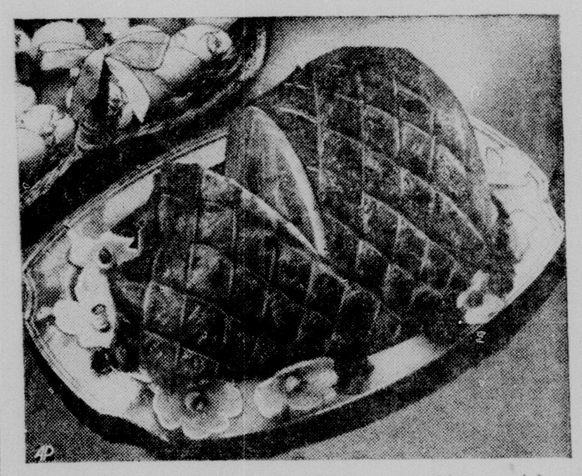

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Go all out on your Easter ham, this year, and make it look like something out of a caterer's kitchen. Give it careful scoring, a rich glaze and a garnish of vegetable flowers and parsley. Bring the ham platter triumphantly to the Easter Sunday dinner table.

Take your choice of ham styles: the cook-before-eating or the fully-cooked variety. The former must be given long oven baking. The fully - cooked style will need only about 10 minutes per pound in a slow oven — but have your ham at room temperature before you begin.

Do you have a large family? Are you inviting guests to join them for Easter dinner? Then a whole ham will make ample servings for everyone and you'll have leftovers to use with extenders for meals during the week. For "just the family" — especially if it's small — a half ham will fill the bill. And for that twosome, a baked thick center slice of ham will make a festive main course. Of course the whole ham is the "best buy."

Both styles of ham should be baked, according to schedule, fat side up on a rack in an open pan. No water is needed. When you take the ham from the oven cut off the shank skin with a knife or kitchen scissors. Cut the fat in diagonal lines — be careful not to cut too far down! — to form diamonds. Stick a whole clove in and will make everyone sigh in bliss.

PINEAPPLE TARTS with cherries are something special.

Chocolate Walnut Angel Pie

Ingredients: 2 egg whites, ¼ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon cream of tartar, ½ cup sifted sugar, ½ cup finely chopped walnuts, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 2 teaspoons gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate ½ cup milk, 2-3 cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup cream (whipped).

Method: Put egg whites, salt, and cream of tartar in mixing bowl. Beat until foamy throughout. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Then continue beating until mixture will stand in very stiff peaks. Fold in walnuts and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Spoon into lightly greased 8-inch pie pan and make a nest - like shell, building sides up ½ inch above edge of pan. Bake in slow (300F) oven 50 to 55 minutes. Cool. Soften gelatin in cold water. Heat chocolate and milk in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, beat with egg beater until blended. Add softened gelatin, sugar and salt; stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in vanilla and whipped cream. Pour into cooled meringue shell. Chill until firm (about 2 hours). Top with extra chopped walnuts.

Cook's Knife

An eight-inch cook's knife — sometimes called a French Cook's or Chef's knife — is wonderfully efficient in a kitchen for carving hot roasts and mincing small quantities of onion, parsley, celery or green pepper. For mincing, hold the tip of the knife on the slicing board and rock back and forth.

Roast Duck Know-How

If you like to roast a duck at a slow temperature but still want a crisp brown skin give the bird this treatment. When it is done, brush the skin with a couple of tablespoons of honey and a teaspoon of soy sauce or brown sauce for coloring gravy; place under the broiler until as brown and crisp as desired.

Road Hog Stopped

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Walter J. Hurley stopped by police headquarters to announce: "I just punched a road hog."

He explained another car forced him off the road and that he pursued it to a stop signal, where he jumped out, yanked open the door and punched the driver.

"Just wanted to get it on the record in case you get a complaint," Hurley said.

Technically, a person is deaf if he he can hear no sounds of any kind but hard of hearing if his hearing is impaired.

Cards Stacked Against Dulles

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The importance and difficulty of Secretary of State Dulles' European mission are illustrated by the backstage diplomatic conversations which occurred in Washington before he left.

What happened was that when President Eisenhower first made up his mind to intervene in Indo-China, our western allies were immediately contacted and asked for joint cooperation. They replied in the negative.

This negative word was received by the White House before Secretary Dulles and Admiral Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, had their important secret session with congressional leaders of both parties to sound them out on Indo-China. In fact, French Ambassador Bonnet conferred with Dulles at 10:30 a.m., just before Dulles saw the senators at 2:30 Saturday.

At the latter meeting, Admiral Radford proposed military intervention by the United States alone. He wanted to send four airplane carriers from The Philippines to the Indo-Chinese coast. The senators immediately demanded that the British, French, and our other western allies cooperate. What the senators and congressmen did not know, and what Secretary Dulle did not tell them, was that the Allies already had been approached and had declined to cooperate.

So Dulles has been trying to put across, face-to-face, in Paris and London, what he failed to put across when dealing through ambassadors.

Richest Man

The richest man in the U.S.A., H. L. Hunt of Texas, recently received a call from the man who loaned him his first dollar.

Hunt was stopping at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington when Emory S. Avant, manager of a much more modest hotel, knocked on his door. At first Hunt didn't answer. He was talking on the long distance phone. Finally he came to the door, but did not open it.

"Who is it?" he asked cautiously.

"Emory Avant of El Dorado, Ark.," was the reply.

Hunt unlocked the door and let his caller in.

Avant had been publisher of the El Dorado Times back in the days before Hunt drilled his first oil well. Now he is manager of the Manchester Hotel on 74th and M Streets in Washington. Hunt remembered him, though he didn't seem too enthusiastic about seeing him, perhaps because Avant was peeved over the fact that he had written Hunt in Texas and received in reply merely some literature on the Bricker amendment.

"That's not the kind of brush-off to give an old friend," said Avant. "Do you remember when I used to ake you out to the cafeteria and buy you meals?"

Hunt said he did remember. He also remembered how he had come into the El Dorado Times office to borrow stationery, and didn't know when he could pay it back.

Avant had an oil painting he was trying to sell, and hoped Hunt might be interested, but his old friend felt he had enough to do without going into the art business.

So Avant went back to his modest Manchester Hotel while Hunt went on to the Waldorf-Astoria in New York where he's busy operating the Facts Forum radio-TV program, State of the Nation, Reporters Round-Up, and Answers for Americans; together with his campaign for the Bricker amendment, Joe McCarthy, and against so many other things that Hunt himself can scarcely remember them.

Merry-Go-Round

White House strategists are wooing Sen. Stuart Symington, the able but sometimes politically naive Democratic senator from Missouri. They figure they can switch him over to the GOP on some issues, also fear his effective attacks on military budget reductions . . . That's one reason Stuart was out on the golf links with Ike the other day when fellow senators were trying to get his vote on the McCarthy committee counsel . . . Ike's brother Milton, president of Penn state, has been having trouble with the Daughters of the American Revolution. The ladies are quoting his 1947 statement that UNESCO marks "very real progress toward the genuine goal of world government." . . . Milton had to write a letter to Congressman Merrow of New Hampshire explaining that he wasn't for world government, though he was strong for the United Nations . . . Milton served some time as chairman of the U.S. delegation to UNESCO during the Truman administration, and in the days when he made the statement it was more fashionable to talk about world cooperation. Today the isolationist wave has sent various people running for political foxholes.

Taft-Hartley Debate

To understand why the house of representatives is tightening the Taft-Hartley Labor Act rather than liberalizing it as Eisenhower requested, you need only examine the phoilosophy of Congressman Ralph Gwinn of Bronxville, N. Y., second ranking Republican on the house labor committee.

Gwinn, an ultra reactionary and proud of it, is about 100 miles to the right of most conservatives in his own party, though he has some worthy rivals among the Democrats, including wing - collared Congressman Howard Worth Smith of Broad Run, Va.

The New Yorker also is an inveterate user of his free mailing frank for propaganda purposes and has achieved the record of mailing 2,500,000 letters against housing, aid-to-education, etc., largely on behalf of business lobbies.

Long ago, Gwinn refused to recognize organized labor except as a "socialistic" menace to the United States. To Gwinn, a trade union is not an organization of working men and women struggling for better wages or working conditions. It is "organized violence" against employers.

During recent closed-door sessions of the house labor committee on the Taft-Hartley act, Gwinn argued that the act should be loaded up with more restraints on labor.

"Government interference on behalf of labor unions is one of our greatest threats to liberty," he declared.

"Your idea of liberty," debated Democratic Congressman Cleveland Bailey of West Virginia, "is the liberty to run sweatshops in industry."

"The federal government should have nothing to do with organized violence in industry," said Gwinn, meaning, of course, trade unions. "Working people surrender their liberty when they join unions and come under the influence of labor racketeers."

No Reason to Fear H-bomb Test Radiation Will Hit Us

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—The great new power of the H-bomb, plus the fact that some 289 human being are distantly exposed to it, has whetted the interest of many people in knowing more about what constitutes a dangerous dose of radiation.

Bomb explosions or not, there is naturally, at all times, a certain amount of "background radiation" in the atmosphere. There have been a number of reports that the Geiger count on background radiation in the U. S. have gone up since the H-bomb tests in March. There have been a number of inquiries at the Atomic Energy Commission on whether there is any new or greater danger to the American pople from the A-bomb tests.

* * *

AEC has a stock answer for all such queries. It doesn't tell much in detail. It admits that there has been a small increase in natural background radiation in the past month. This radioactivity is said to be still far below levels which are dangerous to animal and plant life. It will decrease rapidy until the radiation returns to its normal, ever-present levels.

This normal background radiation comes from radioactive materials in the earth's surface and from the cosmic rays from outer space. A layer of soil one foot deep and a mile square will contain, on the average, a gram of radium, three tons of uranium and six tons of thorium. About six minute cosmic ray particles per minute cross a horizontal surface one inch square.

* * *

This background radiation is greater in mountainious regions than at sea level. It may be increased as much as ten times by rain or snowfall which seems to absorb radioactive particles in the air.

Radiation can be measured because it causes damage to the parts of the body through which it passes or in which it is absorbed. This process is called ionization. What it means is that the radiation causes the molecules in the body tissue which carry no electrical charge, to break down into charged parts called ions.

The unit for measuring the ionizing effect of radiation is called the roentgen. It was named after the discovery of the X-ray. The definition of a roentgen is so technical that only a scientist can understand it. This simplest thing for the average person is to take the roentgen for granted, like the horsepower of the kilowatt.

* * *

In more understandable terms, a routine intestinal X-ray examination exposes anyone to about one roentgen, or 1 r. of radiation. A small skin cancer could be exposed to 4000 r. of X-rays with no effect other than ionization of the cancer cells. But a single exposure of only 400 r. to all parts of the body at once would probably cause death to half the persons who got it.

The maximum safe exposure has been determined to be three tenths of one roentgen a week, indefinitely.

The natural background radiation in the U.S. has been measured as from eight one hundredths to eight tenths of one roentgen (0.08 r. to 0.8 r.) a year. This is obviously way under the limits of safe exposure given in the paragraph above.

The U. S. Atomic Energy Commission maintains 121 observation stations all over the U.S. to keep a check on radiation count. Any time the radiation fall-out from atomic or hydrogen bomb explosion dust gets at all close to danger levels, they'll let you know.

How to Dodge Questions

John G. Adams, the Army's chief legal counsel, has discovered a new way to dodge embarrasing questions. Mrs. Adams is a key figure in the Senate special investigating committee's inquiry into charges that Senator McCarthy's chief counsel, Roy Cohn, tried to pressure the Army into giving preferential treatment to his former associate, G. David Schine.

When Mr. Adams stuck his head into the Pentagon pressroom the other day, reporters surrounded him. "Mr. Adams, will you submit to a lie detector test," one of them asked.

Mr. Adams slapped his leg, laughed, then let out a big grunt.

"Does that big grunt mean you would or would not submit?" the reporter persisted.

With that Mr. Adams waved goodby and disappeared down the hall, grunting.

High-Hat Hill Muse

Rep. William Arthur Winstead (D., Miss.) has been hearin' from the hills on his resolution to commemorate May 26 as "National Hillbilly Day."

Addicts of hillbilly music, however, seem to have gone a bit high-hat instead of just wide-brimmed-hat here of late.

Feeling that they are expresisng the most popular musical art form in America, they resent the use of the word "hillbilly" as applied to their music. They want it known as "country music" instead. An appeal has been made that Winstead amend his resolution to read "National Country Music Day," instead of "Hillbilly Day."

"Pickin' and Singin' News," the national house organ for the hillbilly—pardon—country music industry, published in Nashville, has an open-letter - to - Congress editorial endorsing the amendment.

Truth In An Error

The other day a congressman who'd been invited to a certain gathering sent his regrets. By way of explanation, he telegraphed that "official cuties" prevented his appearance.

It was a typographical error, naturally, but the lawmaker said what a lot of busy boys really ought to say when they beg off from fancy functions or from going home to dinner.

Whether you're in business or government, there are plenty of "official cuties" around. And apparently some of them pack enough influence to prevent your appearance in places not of their choosing.

The World Today—

Dulles' Asia Plan Not Clear

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whether Secretary of State Dulles has a long-range, clearly thought-out plan for stopping Communist expansion in Southeast Asia, or whether he's making it up as he goes along, remains to be seen.

What follows here is a study in a changing mood:

Three years ago, under the Truman administration, this country formed a Pacific military alliance with Australia and New Zealand, called Anzus.

The United States, in addition, has separate defense arrangements in the Pacific with the Philippines, Japan, South Korea and the Nationalist Chinese government on Formosa.

This question had been raised: Would it be a good idea to expand Anzus, by taking more nations into that particular alliance, and to form a kind of Pacific counterpart of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization?

NATO is a military alliance of 14 Western nations pledged to help each other in case any of them is attacked by Russia. Britain, France, the Philippines and Nationalist China had expressed interest in joining Anzus.

Dulles met here last September with the foreign ministers of Australia and New Zealand. This was at a time when French and American officials, including Dulles were still talking cheerfully about the out come of the war in Indochina between the French and the Communist-led Vietminh.

Would the three Anzus ministers consider expanding their alliance? For instance, by taking in Britain and France. They answered this with a statement which said "that to attempt to enlarge membership would not contribute directly and materially" to pacific defense.

Between then and now the Vietminh stepped up the war and began giving the French a battering, raising this question: Could the French hold out or win without direct participation by this country?

Dulles began to talk in dark tones. The French were sick of the war. The United States, Britain, France, Russia and the Chinese Communists were to meet April 26 to talk about settling the problem of Indochina and of Korea.

It seemed possible that if the Communists thought they could split the Allies at Geneva they might offer peace terms which would sound good to the weary French but be acceptable to the United States.

Dulles had spoken repeatedly about the danger of letting the Communists get a hold in Southeast Asia. Suddenly he began talking about the need for "united action." This week he flew to Paris and London.

He could have had these reasons for what followed: (1) a pressing belief in the need for an expanded military alliance to protect Southeast Asia from the Communists; (2) a feeling he had to strengthen the backbone of the French so the Allies would have a united front at Geneva.

At any rate Dulles and French Foreign Minister Bidault yesterday issued a statement which said:

"In close association with other interested nations, we will examine the possibility of establishing within the framework of the United Nations Charter a collective defense to assure peace, security and freedom of this area (the Pacific and Southeast Asia)." The British agreed to a similar statement.

(The collective defense they mentioned would be a 10-nation affair; the United States, Britain, France, Laos, Cambodia and Vietnam in Indochina, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand and Thailand.)

But the Big three didn't say they would actually set up an expanded Anzus, or Pacific NATO. They simply talked about examining the possibility.

DUNN apologized. "Maybe we have the current turned up a little too high. But you missed, Mark. You didn't hit the heart. Your stab wouldn't have been fatal. You missed, and that's what happens to you."

Mark Richards shook his head.

"It only took me three times to learn exactly where to strike," Jim said. "When you stab the 'heart' there is no electric shock. How many shocks do you think Eddie had before he was perfect, Mark? Look at the threadbare place in the back of that coat. Between the shoulders, where a coat ordinarily wouldn't show great wear."

Mark shook his head slowly, as if to keep away the thought picture of Eddie Stone stabbing and stabbing again and again. Days of practice? Months? How much time had been spent in that cruel training? And for what promised reward? For a promise he would be like other people? Richards remembered the cyanide-filled soda pop and shivered.

He said, "Who, Jim?"

Vern Bruce answered that one. "Mansfield, of course. Anyone who would want to try an experiment on a cat wouldn't mind trying one on a human being."

"But why?"

"I think you'll find the answer to that in Mansfield's safe-deposit boxes," Jim said. "At one time he had a very large fortune. Yet we know he has made nothing from his writing. And he has denied himself nothing when it comes to his hobbies. That, beside his playing the stock market. You'll have to check with his brokers too, Mark. Remember, it was only a few months ago he had that expensive job of soundproofing done. I think you'll find his finances have taken a turn for the worse since then."

"What a way to get money," Mark said.

"The method didn't enter into it with Mansfield," Jim said. "Read some of his literary efforts written during these last 20 years. He was completely wrapped up in himself and the 'injustices' done him. With a man like that, say he lost on the market, do you think he would quibble a moment about how he regained his money? Oh, he was quite willing to gamble. Either on the market, or in staking the few years left of his life on this murder-extortion scheme. But he never dreamed he would be suspected, let alone found out."

"Is that why he did not dispose of this dummy?"

* * *

"THERE," Jim said, "I believe it was more a matter of time. With police in and out of the house, he could not do anything suspicious. In fact it was not until the early hours of morning, almost daylight, that he considered it safe enough to hide the extortion money."

"The money!" Mark snapped his fingers. "I'll have the whole force in here, and we'll take this place apart board by board. Unless you've figured out where the money is too?"

"Approximately," Jim said. "Remember, Mansfield had two pipe wrenches with him when he was shot." Jim tried not to hesitate over the statement. "So we'll get us a couple of pipe wrenches. Then we'll go over all the pipes and plumbing, hunting for fresh scratches. One thing about pipe wrenches, they do leave marks."

Richards was staring now at his friend. "Jim, who shot him? He didn't shoot himself, did he?"

Jim Dunn thought ruefully of the hours he had spent going through reams of handwritten manuscript, searching for some page which he might use for an admission.

But in Mansfield's writings there had been no thought, no small consideration of the fact that the man—or Mansfield—might have been guilty. Certainly Jim had found nothing that could be construed as a confession, even by separating a few sentences from the context.

"No," he said slowly. "Mansfield didn't shoot himself. But he's still alive. You can always ask him, Mark."

"You think he'll talk?"

"No." Jim said. "I don't think he will. And we may find he was shot while making an attempt to destroy evidence of his guilt."

"So." Richards said slowly. "That's the way it is. We might get by with it, if Mansfield lives."

"He's got to live," Jim said. "And that's the reason you're not going to disturb him in any way until he is out of danger."

"I guess we can make a strong enough case against him without his saying anything—for now," Richards admitted. "Especially if we find the money. Of course, Mansfield can always say it was his own cash he had hidden."

* * *

"DON'T forget our friend Mr. Jones. The one who had put little marks on his money, so he'd be able to recognize it. And, for that matter, I'd be very much surprised if Peter Atwood or some of the others hadn't done the same."

"All right, Jim," Richards said. "I'll play along with you—provided we find the money."

"Agreed. And Mark, before we leave this shop I should explain one reason why Eddie's radio was on—left running. The switching on of the lathe produced interference, made the radios around here howl. Eddie was listening for a signal too. He hurried down to join Mansfield when he heard. He—he was anxious to complete his number of tasks so he could be changed into his real form."

"Tasks?" Richards said. "Where did you get that?"

"From a high school play," Jim said. "A great favorite of Eddie Stone's. Through repetition it had come to be far more real than the actual world to him."

Odds and Ends By News Staff

IT WAS LAST SUMMER that a woman saw a wagon with roasting ears parked across the street from her house and a man was selling them. She went over to see them, found them very nice and bought some.

A little neighbor girl was playing around and the woman, feeling that the child's mother might want some, too, told her to go in and ask her mother if she wanted some roasting ears.

If she had said corn on the cob the youngster might have known what she was talking about, but as far as she was concerned it just meant meat.

"Mother", she called as she went in the house, "Mrs. Anderson is selling roast meat and she wants to know if you want to buy some."

Fire Drill Realistic

KEYPORT, N. J. (AP)—Firemen held a drill at the Raritan Inn recently with smoke pots to make things more realistic.

Result: Three firemen had to be treated for smoke poisoning and a bystander received a black eye when a hose was turned on him accidentally.

"Extremely realistic," was the comment of Mayor Herbert Rothenberg.

Ionia Has Three Eighth Grade Grads

By Mrs. Homer Howe

IONIA — Graduation exercises were held at Warsaw Friday for the eighth grade graduates of the county. Ionia's graduates were Dwight Beeson, Carol Sue Hanning and Bonnie Wilson.

Mrs. E. M. Gardner went to Perry, Okla., Tuesday to visit an aunt of Mr. Gardner, Mrs. Georgia Surber.

Wilson Wright, Kansas City, cousin of the late L. W. Wright was in Ionia Saturday transacting business.

Mrs. E. A. Crenshaw, Roseland, spent Sunday in the home of her son, Robert Crenshaw, Mrs. Crenshaw and children.

Misses Alberta and Ruth Pfaff and Mrs. Theodore Howe had as dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Proctor of Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. Oxel Johnson, Mrs. Florence Walkup, Mrs. Opal Goering, Sedalia, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Canaday and Belinda, Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Snow and family, Sedalia, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Tinker.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Canaday and daughter, Belinda, visited over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Griffith, and with her mother, Mrs. Theodora Howe.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Hagar and Walter Hagar, Windsor, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilborn, Versailles, visited Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Wilborn.

Mrs. Myrtle Johnson, Sedalia, visited Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Alfred Brown, and Mr. Brown. Mrs. Brown went to Columbia Wednesday for a physical check-up at the Ellis Fischel Hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. McBee, Lincoln, have moved into the Arthur Bockelman property on Highway 65. Dr. McBee will continue to have his office at Lincoln. The McBee children are attending school at Cole Camp.

Mrs. Meyer, Cole Camp, is visiting with her sister-in-law, Mrs Maggie Krohn.

Mrs. Floyd Tinker and children, Cole Camp, visited Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C Griffith.

Edward Meuschke has purchased property in Windsor and will move his family there in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Kletus Cordes had guests Sunday evening honoring the birthday of Mrs. Cordes, Mr and Mrs. Fred Brockman and Irma, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brockman and family, Mr. and Mrs Harold Brockman and family, Mr ano Mrs. Irvin Borchers, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Cordes, Mrs. Isabell Romig, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cordes.

Spring Is Time for New Salad Setup to Brighten the Table

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

A manufacturer in Pasadena, Calif., just sent us a Caesar salad service set consisting of white ceramic pepper mill and salt shaker with beautiful white oil and vinegar cruets. They are fitted into an attractive black or white iron carrying rack.

The set comes in white background, hand decorated with ivy in green and brown, or green and purple grapes, or red apples, or in Chinese red background. It's really a gay, practical and highly styled item and would make an unusually welcome wedding present.

Caesar salad is one of California's contributions to the joy of living. It is really a full course in itself. Helen Evans Brown of Pasadena is one of the west's most noted food writers. In her treasure of a book, "West Coast Cook Book," she tells how to produce this great salad. Here is what she says:

Crush a clove of garlic and add it to ¾ of a cup of olive oil. Let stand overnight. Brown 2 cups of croutons, made from stale sourdough French bread, in ¼ cup of this garlic oil, stirring them carefully so they will color on all sides. Drain on paper toweling. (Or, if you prefer, merely toast the bread cubes brown in a slow oven.)

Now break 2 large or 3 small heads of romaine into a large bowl, grind on a good generous amount of fresh black pepper and add ½ teaspoon of salt, then dress with ½ cup of garlic oil. Turn the salad until every leaf is glossy with oil, then break 2 eggs, cooked 1 minute, plunk into the middle of the salad.

Now, before the mixing is resumed, squeeze the juice of a big, fat lemon directly over the egg (if the lemon is small, use 1½ or even 2 of them), and mix so that there is a thick, creamy look to the lettuce.

If you wish to include fillets of anchovies, and many say you MUST, here is where they are added—6 or 8 snipped into bits. Now taste it, and don't hesitate to use your fingers. More salt? More lemon? Add them, or vinegar if you wish. Plenty of experts do so. (And others insist on a slug of Worcestershire.)

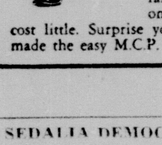

The seasoning is now as you want it, so a good ½ cup (at least) of grated Parmesan is tossed in, the salad mixed some more, and finally the croutons are added, and the salad served at once so they won't become limp and soggy.

Like any salad of this kind, the artist adds (or subtracts) as he goes along, so Caesar Salad, as you make it, is all your own. Serves a dozen, more or less.

THINK OF IT! WONDERFUL BERRY JAM MADE ANYTIME . . . FOR 15c A GLASS!

WITH FROZEN BERRIES . . . AND WITHOUT COOKING . . . with amazing new uncooked jam recipes developed exclusively by M.C.P. Jam and Jelly PECTIN! But, you say . . . frozen berries are expensive. They are . . . yet, this fine, economical M.C.P. recipe (below) makes more than 13 (½ lb.) glasess for less than 15c a glass! And what extra delicious jam it is! . . . for it has ALL the natural berry flavor and color because cooking and boiling are eliminated! Make some today!

Uncooked Berry Jam Recipe*
(Using Frozen Strawberries or Red Raspberries)
3 – 16 oz., or 4 – 12 oz., or 5 – 10 oz. packages

1. Partially thaw the frozen berries and put them in a 2 or 4 quart kettle. Using a potato masher, crush berries thoroughly to obtain enough liquid to dissolve the pectin. Place kettle over slow fire and warm to 100°F. (or temperature you'd use for baby's milk). No hotter, please! Remove from fire.
2. Sift 1 package (3½-oz.) M.C.P. Jam and Jelly Pectin into thawed berries, stirring vigorously. Set aside for at least 20 minutes, stirring occasionally to assure that pectin is fully dissolved.
3. Stir in 1 cup light corn syrup, and stir well.
4. Now, stir in 6 level cups beet or cane sugar (previously and accurately measured). Mix well.
5. With Red Raspberries the jam is ready to eat when sugar is dissolved. With Strawberries, add ¼ cup lemon juice after sugar is dissolved; mix well. Makes 5 full pints or 13 (½ lb.) glasses.

NOTE: If jam is to be kept for a time, put in pint jars or paper cartons, well covered (no paraffin needed), and chill for 24 hours in deep freeze, or freezing or ice cube compartment of refrigerator. Then, store as you would milk, and use as desired. Never store these jams on pantry shelf. They will not keep without refrigeration.

Deer Migration Comes Dear

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — Kenneth Johnson's car ran into a mule deer. If the deer, a type seldom seen in Illinois, had stayed in the Western states where he came from Johnson figures expense of repairs to his car wouldn't have been so dear. Damage was estimated at $75.
